Ask Aldermen Be at School Meeting

Dangers Are Pointed Out in Bus March

Firemen, Doctors Mentioned

Children Could Be Hurt, Says Banyo

Town of Ulster Supervisor Alexander J. Banyo in a public statement today termed Wednesday's Mother's March "an ill-advised method of settling the bus dispute."

"Force and unlawful procedure cannot be condoned," said Banyo, "even in the solution of a problem, for our way of life is totally opposed to both, and none of us believes that the end justifies the means in this regard."

No Official Say

Banyo stated that neither he nor the Town of Ulster board has any official jurisdiction or capacity to represent their people in school matters." Any decisions concerning school matters, including the 'bus policy,' is made for the people by the members of the Board of Education."

At a meeting of the board Wednesday, it was pointed out that although the bus dispute is beyond control of the board, it must cope with the dangerous interference with traffic as best it can.

It was pointed out, further, that more than 1,000 workers were late at International Business Machines plant in the town on Wednesday, and hundreds of others employed at other places also were late.

The town board passed a resolution authorizing Supervisor Banyo to employ school crossing guards to protect children at the schools, if the school controversy is not resolved.

The board voted to send a second communication to the State Traffic Commission again requesting the reduction of speed on Neighborhood Road and other heavily traversed roads in the Town of Ulster. It was pointed out by the town clerk that in the past the commission had been contacted for such reductions, but in most cases the requests were refused by the commission.

The supervisor emphasized in the statement that neither he nor the town board created the bus problem, nor can they in their official capacity solve it, as far as who is to be transported and who is not.

Oath: Must Uphold Law

"We, however, must deal with the by-product of this controversy," said Banyo, "that by-product being the dangerous action of stopping traffic by some of our parents." Banyo said that he and the town board took an oath of office to maintain law and order in their town, and to govern wisely and within the law.

"A demonstration of force, such as that shown on Wednesday, was an ill-advised method of settling the bus dispute," Banyo continued.

"Strong feeling many times blinds sound thinking, and certainly the blocking of traffic on a highway purposefully is illegal and unlawful," Banyo said. "The situation that was created Wednesday morning was extremely hazardous."

Bad for Firemen, Doctors

The supervisor stated that drivers of cars and trucks could have been enraged to a point where, in their anxiety to get to work, serious injury could have resulted. "The hazard created in the event of an emergency cannot be questioned," Banyo said.

He said that if fire equipment had to move quickly yesterday, it could not have because of the congestion on the highway. "The

Guards Ask for His Ouster

Napanoch Head Denies Inmates Are Coddled

Some guards at the Eastern Correctional Institution, Napanoch, have accused Superintendent Charles L. McKendrick of coddling inmates, which he emphatically denies, and ask for his removal and an investigation at the institution.

In a telegram sent to Governor Rockefeller following a meeting of approximately 30 guards Tuesday evening at Hotel Shanley, Napanoch, the group requested "immediate removal" of McKendrick since "repeated efforts by Council 50 AFL-CIO, have failed to impress Department of Correction of dire circumstances surrounding Napanoch management by McKendrick, and his failure to act."

Trained for Position

McKendrick, who came to Napanoch as superintendent from his assistant superintendent's position at Clinton State Prison, Dannemora, after passing a competetive examination, began his career in prison work as a guard and holds a masters degree from Columbia University which he earned during his prison work career.

The allegation in the telegram, McKendrick said is a "malicious lie." He told newsmen last night that he knew nothing about the telegram being sent but had on Tuesday "tried to have a meeting with the group" but could not arrange a meeting since the group would not cooperate.

Number Is Controversy

Superintendent McKendrick said the move apparently stemmed from a "small group of mal-contented guards" who he said held outside secondary jobs "against departmental regulations."

There appears to be a difference of opinion as to whether 85 to 90 per cent of the approxi-

White Trial Is On in Newburgh: Slew Union Boss

NEWBURGH, N. Y. (AP) — The president of a small manufacturing firm goes on trial today in the slaying of an ex-convict union boss who struck the plant. He is expected to plead self-defense.

The case in Orange County Court is believed unique in the recent history of labor-management relations, although in years gone by violent death often stalked a picket line.

Malcolm White, 49, shot to death 52-year-old Alfred Dugan Nov. 13, 1958, at Chester, N. Y. White said he thought Dugan meant to harm him.

Indicted, Given Bail

White was indicted on a first-degree murder charge, punishable by death in the electric chair. He later was released in $50,000 bail, a move believed without precedent here in a first degree murder case.

Dugan had a criminal record as a thug and had served a prison term in New Jersey for bank robbery. He organized a small, independent union, the Interstate Industrial Union. It died with him.

On Nov. 10, 1958, Dugan called a strike against the Chester Cable Co., of which White was president, seeking recognition as bargaining agent for the employes. They were represented then, as

Conrad Is Backed by Economy

Views Like Those Of Party: Singer

Gerald F. Conrad of the 11th Ward, who was designated at the Republican city convention last July as its choice for alderman-at-large, has received the designation of the Economy Party.

Conrad, who will be the running mate for Addison D. Jones, Republican candidate for mayor, was designated by the Economy Party at a meeting this week, Bernie Singer, Economy Party chairman, announced today.

'Hard Thinking Man'

Singer said the Economy Party had selected Conrad because it was felt he was an "independent, hard thinking man" who would truly represent the people. An employe of IBM as a cost analyst, Singer said Conrad was "acquainted with figures" and from his experience the Economy Party felt his views in regard to elimination of unnecessary expenditures and the expenditure of money for necessary things would "coincide" with the Economy Party's policy.

Chairman Singer said Conrad had "promised" to follow no "machine party" thinking and would act independently in the interest of the people. Conrad is an Air Force veteran, married and the father of two children.

Will Name Others

In discussing the selection of Gerald F. Conrad as the Economy Party for alderman-at-large, Chairman Singer said the

Ike Will Report To U. S. Tonight On Trip, Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, who thinks the American public sometimes needs "almost spoon-fed" education on the nation's role in the world, speaks to the people tonight.

His report on his recent trip to Europe and on the visit here next week by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev will be carried from 6:30 to 6:45 p.m. (EST) by major radio and television networks.

The President talked Wednesday about informing the public in remarks to a delegation from the National Council of Churches of Christ.

He said he always feels "the necessity of trying to make the facts available to the American public. And sometimes, you know, you have to tackle them and hold them down to feed these facts to them.

"Now you give the facts, but it doesn't always penetrate, so there has to be education, sometimes almost spoon-fed, and probably with the aid of a hammer. But we need it."

ROAD BLOCK IN PORT EWEN ROCK-CUT — Fathers, mothers and children are shown gathered to block traffic on Port Ewen side of Rondout Creek Bridge in protest over curtailed school bus service, which they insist creates a hazard in the rock-cut section of state highway 9W, where there are no sidewalks. A stalled traffic line is in evidence. (Freeman photo). (Other pictures on page 16).

State Building Code Adopted by Town of Esopus

The Town of Esopus became the third township in Ulster County to adopt the State Building Code, during its Wednesday night meeting in the Town Hall, Port Ewen.

The Towns of New Paltz and Shawangunk previously adopted the code following public information meetings. The hearing in Town of Esopus was held August 26.

To Draft Schedule

Supervisor Roger W. Mabie appointed a committee including himself to draft a suggested schedule of fees and administrative procedures for the new enactment. The committee includes Councilman Sol Rosenthal, chairman and Justice of the Peace John Beaver.

The board adopted a resolution requesting Dr. James E. Allen Jr., commissioner of education" to take action on the school bus question, particularly as it applies to transportation for pupils where extremely hazardous conditions exist such as the Route 9W rock cut near the Rondout Bridge.

Supervisor Mabie said yesterday, he had received a letter from Lloyd A. Maeder, director of state traffic commission in reply to a

Fourth Polio Case Reported Today In Ulster County

A fourth case of poliomyelitis has been reported by the Ulster County Department of Health, a four-year old Town of Rochester girl, who is being treated in a local hopsital.

The child, whose name was not announced, received no polio vaccine prior to her illness, the health department said, adding that while muscle weakness is evident there has been no paralysis noted.

Not Considered Serious

The girl's case is not considered a serious one, the department said.

Blockades Out Today 2nd Time

Hastings Demands Fairness for City

While approximately 500 suburban mothers and children again blocked key highways in protest against the school bus transportation policy, Third Ward Alderman Donald M. Hastings called upon Common Council members to attend tonight's meeting of the Board of Education to seek equalization of bus transportation in the consolidated district to include Kingston children.

In a statement today, Hastings said that in the early days of consolidation talk he was told that all taxpayers under consolidation could expect their fair share of transportation.

Feels City Entitled

"All we are asking is our fair share," Hastings said. He added that he feels the taxpayers are "morally and legally" entitled to a share of transportation services derived from payment of school taxes.

Lloyd A. Maeder, director of the State Traffic Commission, in a reply to a letter from Supervisor Roger W. Mabie, Town of Esopus, said he was "astounded" to hear that children would be required to walk along Route 9W through the "rock-cut on the south side of Rondout bridge.

Maeder also stated that in his opinion the real answer to the problem is to "go back to the former system and provide transportation so there is no need for children to be on Route 9W.

Point to Cooperation

Meanwhile, in the Hyde Park Central School district, about 1,900 boys and girls went to school yesterday morning without riding buses and school officials cited careful advance planning and whole-hearted cooperation by police agencies and parents with making the opening day "pretty much normal."

Of the 3,152 pupils enrolled in the district, only about 1,300 rode buses as the district is operating on an austerity budget, which has no provision for bus transportation for all.

Deputy sheriffs, Poughkeepsie Town police and state troopers were credited by school officials for giving "invaluable aid" in directing traffic. Many parents in the Hyde Park district took their children to school in cars and many pupils rode their bicycles.

Dutchess County Sheriff C. Fred Close and Town Police Chief Vincent Smith said assistance by their departments would continue until the transportation problem is solved.

Different Situation

On this side of the Hudson River the situation was different. Dissatisfied mothers, many of them carrying placards and holding infants, for a second day assembled before 7 a. m. and marched along key highways, blocking vehicular traffic for more than an hour.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Smith told a newsman at Port Ewen that the "Mother's March" of some 250 women and children slowly marched to the Rondout Bridge in protest against the Board of Education's school bus policy, which has compelled many children to walk along the so-called hazardous Route 9-W through the "rock cut" south of the bridge and along Route 9-W

Says BA Can't Use Local Span Money for New Land

John S. Stillman, chairman of the New York State Bridge Authority Wednesday said that the authority cannot use a balance of $1,299,000 in the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge construction fund to pay on its $1,455,000 share of expense for land acquisition for the Poughkeepsie arterial highway.

Stillman, speaking before the Poughkeepsie Rotary club Wednesday afternoon, said he based his remark on a ruling by Hawkins, Delafield and Wood, bonding attorneys.

"The bonding attorneys," Stillman made known, "said there is no way the authority can help Poughkeepsie without refunding our outstanding bonds."

Stillman did not say when the authority will make its payment of up to $1,500,00 toward Poughkeepsie's share of the artery project. "It will be possible to make the payment when we float bonds, which could be any time from January on," Stillman said. He said that several weeks ago he guessed "within eight months."

The authority chairman told the Rotarians that he will do all within his power to carry out the March 10 resolution of the Potential Blast Is Averted as Doctor Douses Cigarette Before Entering Lab

A potential explosion or fire hazard found early today at the state regional veterinary laboratory 88 Prince Street, police believe, resulted from prankish prowling of children in the building, and appeared to be without malicious intent.

Four gas jets had been left open and an electric oven was turned on. Also, it was revealed, a lighted cigarette, had potential serious consequences when the building was entered this morning.

A police report at 6:35 a. m., said Dr. Wesley E. Linquist, of 63 Mary's Avenue, a field veterinarian in charge of mastitis control at the laboratory, which is operated in conjunction with the New York State Veterinary College, found the dangerous condition when he entered the building.

The gas jets, used largely for laboratory purposes, it was noted, burn at low volume, and apparently had not filled the room to cause combustion danger in the area of the electric oven, the doors of which were found ajar.

Four chickens and two pigeons in the laboratory, it was noted, showed no ill effects from the gas, and this fact indicated that air displacement had not reached the danger point.

Detective Guernsey Burger, who investigated, said Dr. Linquist reported having discarded a lighted cigarette before he entered the building. It was speculative, he indicated, whether conditions inside could have caused an explosion from the cigarette, had he entered with it.

Dr. Lindquist immediately turned on a fan to move the gas from possible concentrated areas and out of the building.

Due to the fact that the building had not been ransacked and nothing appeared disturbed beyond the gas jets and electric oven, it is theorized that children somehow had entered the building. It was undetermined whether a door or window had been left open.

Children have been permitted in the building during the day at various times to look at whatever fowl or animals might be kept there, it was noted.

Retired Upstate Farm Editor Is Awarded Citation

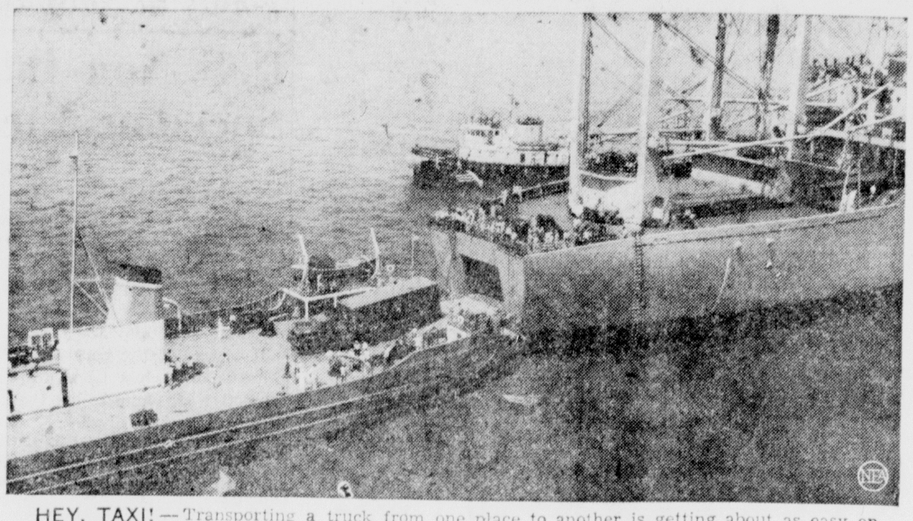

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Leo B. Skeffington of Williamson, retired farm editor of the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle, has been awarded a distinguished service citation for understanding the farmer and his problems.

The award was made Wednesday night by Gov. Rockefeller at the annual State Fair Farm Dinner of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce.

Skeffington retired in January after 35 years in the newspaper business.

Prizes were given to winners of the Empire State Industrial competition in the magazine and newspaper category. The winners were:

Mrs. Ellen Van Duzen, editor of "The Family Circle" magazine for Crouse-Hinds, Syracuse, and William R. Johnson Jr., editor of the General Electric News in Syracuse.

Along Capitol Corridors

By ROBERT T. GRAY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The youth camps recommended by Gov. Rockefeller may replace Youth Courts in the state's plans for fighting the juvenile crime that exploded into a series of slayings in New York City.

The governor proposed additional outdoor-work camps in forest areas to keep actual or potential delinquents off the strife-torn streets of New York City.

Two Types of Camps

Rockefeller acted as stabbings, shootings and other violence among teen-agers touched off a new search for ways to combat juvenile delinquency.

He recommended two types of camps. One would be designed to rehabilitate boys convicted of crimes. There are two such camps now in operation on a limited scale—at North pharsalia in Chenango County and Beaver Dams in Schuyler County.

The second type of camp would be voluntary and provide work and training for unemployed youths with tendencies toward delinquency.

"Keeping the kids from getting off the track is far less expensive than taking care of them in jails," Rockefeller said.

The governor said attempts would be made to get some type of camp operation under way immediately but the final decisions would be up to the 1960 Legislature.

Decision Due on Act

At the same time, the lawmakers might have to make a long-delayed decision in another area of youthful crime — the Youth Court Act. This provides for special treatment for offenders 16 through 20.

The Legislature has three times postponed the effective date of the act because of widespread criticism. It now is scheduled to take effect next year.

Judges said the act would be unworkable. Some law-enforcement agencies protested treatment of 18, 19 and 20-year-old youths as juveniles. Newspaper groups said provisions for keeping case records secret could foster, not deter, crime.

Supporters of the act siad its purpose was rehabilitation, rather than punishment, when possible.

The Legislature has put off a final decision on the act on the ground it needed time to determine the most effective way to deal with young criminals.

The current upswing in jufenile crime and the resulting uproar from press and public is expected to rule out the possibility of further delay of overhaul in procedures for combatting youthful crime.

Sets Steuben Day

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller today designated next Thursday as Steuben Day in honor of the Prussian military officer who fought in the American Revolution.

Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben "gave up rank, possessions and country to join our forefathers in the struggle for liberty," the governor said in a proclamation.

G. B. Dryden Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — George B. Dryden, 90, millionaire sportsman and founder of the Dyrden Rubber Co., died Wednesday.

K of C to Make Annual Trip to Martyrs' Shrine

Members of Kingston Council 275, Knights of Columbus, will leave the council building 11 a. m. Sunday for their annual pilgrimage to the shrine at Auriesville.

They will be joined by fellow knights from other parts of New York State to honor the first Christian martyrs of North America. It was at Auriesville that St. Isaac Jaques and his companions were first cruelly tortured and then forced to run the always fatal gauntlet of the Mohawks.

Afternoon Mass will be celebrated at 4 p. m. Knights will be accompanied by their families.

Likely to Mention Prisoners in China In Nikita Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, in his forthcoming talks with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, probably will bring up the subject of the five Americans still imprisoned in Red China.

Attention was focused on the prisoners again today when the State Department said their release is a matter of urgency and importance.

The department said in a statement it will continue to pursue every feasible course of action to secure the freedom of Robert E. McCann of Altadena, Calif., John T. Downey of New Britain, Conn., Richard G. Fecteau of Lynn, Mass., Hugh F. Redmond Jr. of Yonkers, N.Y., and Roman Catholic Bishop James E. Walsh of Cumberland, Md.

The State Department estimates that at least 158 Americans have been jailed or held under house arrest in Red China since the Communists came to power 10 ago.

No U.S. prisoner has been released by the Chinese Reds since Dec. 20, 1955, except at the expiration of sentences imposed by the Communist courts.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, SEPTEMBER 10, 1959

OF MASS AND MEN

It will be an accomplishment of a sort that this month, for the 15th straight year, record numbers will enroll in the nation's schools and colleges.

A democracy must educate if it is to have an informed citizenry capable of intelligent decisions at the polls, where its basic choices are made. As a country grows, so must its school population to keep pace.

But impressive as are the sheer numbers—the official estimate this time is for 46,480,000—they can be but one gauge.

What we must be vitally concerned with is quality. And there the outlook is a good deal less than cheerful.

For one thing, the larger and larger enrollments put increasing burdens both upon teachers and upon school facilities. The government says we will be short 195,000 teachers this fall. The estimate last year was 182,000.

How do we deal with this problem?

We lure some teachers back to service who have retired or sought other work. We cut down the number of courses available, and we make classes bigger than they ought to be. Worst of all, we hire countless substandard instructors.

But quality in education is not something produced automatically even when you have enough teachers and school facilities. The bigger question is: What do young Americans learn in the schools of today?

Here again, the record leaves a great deal to be desired.

The evidence is strong that in far too many schools the business of learning is today a vague, imprecise, fuzzy thing that has little to do with knowledge and much to do with the student's "personal adjustment." Some critics argue that these places are more like psychological clinics than schools.

In a good many educational circles, hard, solid facts about this world and how it works seem in disrepute. But sound ideas grow only from such a foundation. "Creative impulses" which feed on nothing but a youngster's undisciplined notions are not likely to add up to good work, good citizenship, or even sensible use of one's free time.

When a youngster passes through the school door, we're not trying to sell him a vacuum cleaner or a freezer. There's been enough emphasis in recent years on making things "easy" and "lots of fun." Learning, real learning, is hard work, and this year is as good as any to stop pretending otherwise.

THE RAZOR EDGE

Occasionally there is a cool day in summer—a day of clouds and rain, a day when a giant cold front stays the heavy power of the sun for a time. Back of such coolness there is always a hint of warmth, of summer's heat waiting in the wings to go on again.

Toward the end of summer there comes a day when the coolness has a different feel about it. The day is sunny and clear, but there is an edge to it. One senses a change. The chill in the air is no kin to clouds and rain; it is the first keen touch of the new season, and of the season beyond.

It is still to early to be concerned over the "melancholy days" that William Cullen Bryant wrote about—the days "of wailing winds, and naked woods, and meadows brown and sere." There are weeks of gold and crimson ahead. Yet on that first cool day at summer's end, one can feel the razor's edge of change.

Motels are opening up in the Soviet Union for the first time, probably because they want American tourists to feel at home.

HOLD THAT POSE, ROVER

The dog catchers in Stockton, Calif., are sneaky fellows: But shrewd, mind you, shrewd. They don't waste precious energy running about and snagging the liberty-loving canines. They take pictures of them.

This approach disarms the roaming dogs. Some of them, when the man comes by with his camera, doubtless even sit up to have their pictures taken. Once taken, the picture is developed on the spot and the neighborhood is canvassed for the dog's owner. He pays the fine, in most cases, and the city doesn't have to house and feed—let alone catch—the offending dog.

Most owners, according to reports, do not resent this photographic gambit. A lot of them want a copy of the picture. Which proves that human nature is even more interesting than dog nature.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

KHRUSHCHEV'S IDEAS OF AMERICA

Nikita Khrushchev wrote an article for "Foreign Affairs," in which he discloses an ignorance of the United States which may be the cause for much of the troubles between the two countries. He also displays a lack of understanding of the industrial development in his own country. He says:

". . . The dynamics of the development of the U.S.S.R. and the U.S.A. are such that the 42-year-old land of the Soviets is already able to challenge the 150-year-old capitalist state to economic competition; and the most farsighted American leaders are admitting that the Soviet Union is fast catching up with the United States and will ultimately outstrip it.' . . ."

First of all, the history of industrialization is that one country builds on another. True, in 1917, Soviet Russia was far behind in the development of manufactures. It was a backward country. Today, Soviet Russia is one of the principal manufacturing countries on Earth. But Khrushchev omits many telling facts when he makes a comparison between what we accomplished here in 150 years and what they accomplished there in 42 years.

In the first place, he should have called attention to the fact that we gave Russia, free of charge, approximately $11,000,000,000 which became the base for their modern industrialization. Secondly, Soviet Russia purchased or bartered for entire plants which came from the United States, Great Britain and Germany. In a word, upon the foundation of existing plants in Western Europe, Soviet Russia built her present industrial order.

Japan did the same thing a little earlier. Beginning in 1868, Japan, under the Emperor Meiji and Prince Ito, went through a period of industrialization, becoming by 1914, the leading country in Asia and by 1918 one of the five great powers on Earth. Japan's achievement was actually more brilliant than Russia's because it was always short of both manpower and raw materials, being forced to import even food to take care of an increasing population. It attempted to conquer Manchuria and parts of Mongolia to supply its shortages, but was stopped by the West, principally by the United States.

When Khrushchev says that farsighted American leaders admit that Soviet Russia is catching up to and will pass the United States, he does not offer any names. No outstanding American leader has publicly taken that position. Khrushchev may have spoken to such as Cyrus Eaton but who would call him an outstanding American leader?

Let us quote another sentence from Khrushchev:

". . . Prove by facts that your system is superior and more efficacious, that it is capable of insuring a higher degree of prosperity for the people than the Socialist system, that under capitalism man can be happier than under socialism. . . ."

The only advantage in Khrushchev's visit is that he might see with his own eyes what nonsense he talks. He says: "It is impossible to prove this," meaning our superior standard of life. He should stay here for a year and see whether it is impossible to prove this. As a matter of fact, Khrushchev does not know what prosperity is in terms of consumers' goods, which is the essence of our productivity. He has no conception of 1959 life in the United States. Let him pick his types. He was a miner. Let him go to a place like Butte, Montana and see how American miners live and compare that with how Ural miners live. Let him go to Youngstown or Weirton or Steubenville or Middletown to see how American steel workers live. He can skip the luncheon the Mayor of New York is to give him and go through 20 or 30 stores in New York, particularly during the noon hour when working girls shop. Let him pick them at random. Let him walk in here and there and discover what he can get in the way of consumers' goods.

It would only go to show that Khrushchev simply does not know anything at all about American life and the American way of life. He has read perhaps some articles in Communist publications and he has disbelieved statistical information given him by his experts. He has disbelieved because it has been beyond his experience and understanding.

It would be an advantage to the world if Khrushchev did understand this country and if he did understand Western civilization. Perhaps he is not too stubborn to learn.

Brain Bank Established to Study Parkinson's Disease

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Every year I receive a great many inquiries about the disease known as Parkinson's disease, shaking palsy or paralysis agitans.

Parkinson's disease is principally a disorder of the later years of life, though there is one form which sometimes follows brain fever or encephalitis in the young.

In its typical form, one or both hands shake while at rest and many motions of the body become slower and they are performed with some appearance of stiffness. As a general rule, the shaking starts in one hand, and the other may not tremble for months or years and may never become as bad as the one in which it started.

The cause of Parkinson's disease of age (in contrast to that which follows brain fever) is not entirely understood. Apparently a portion of the brain is damaged, but the thinking processes do not seem much harmed.

Some hardening of particular blood vessels is the most likely explanation for the development of Parkinson's disease.

Shaking palsy is more common among men than women. It tends to start slowly, though sometimes the symptoms develop suddenly after a mental or physical shock.

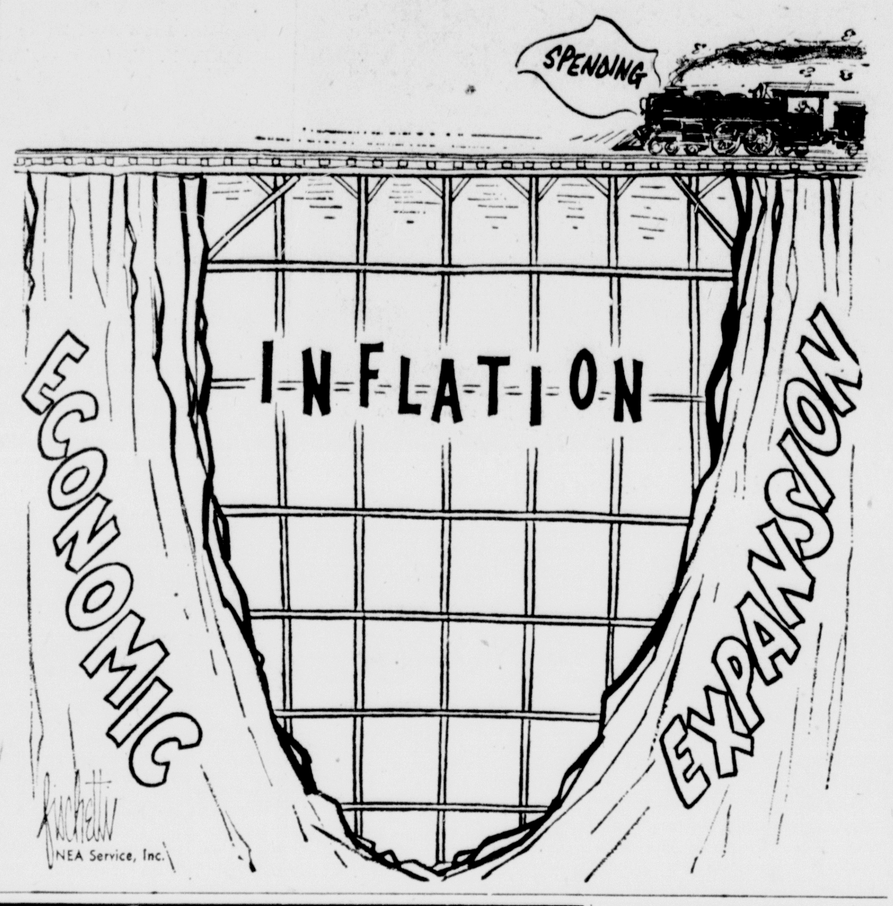

The physician is helped in making a diagnosis by a lack of expressiveness in the patient's face and by the way he walks.

There is so far no sure, complete cure, but there are drugs available which, together with satisfactory attention to the general health, will relieve many of the symptoms and make life not at all unbearable.

Increased attention is also being given to the psychological approach. It has been stated that the patient can do virtually anything he wishes if he concentrates on it. Surgical methods of treatment have also been devised.

The most recent development, offering promise for the future, is the establishment of a brain bank by the Parkinson's Disease Foundation (125 East 50th St., New York, N. Y.) designed to make available the brains of deceased sufferers from this disease to internationally renowned neurologists and other experts for scientific research projects.

Washington News

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Over one million veterans and survivors of deceased veterans stand to benefit under the new, non-service connected pension law just signed by the President.

There are now around 1,223,400 pensioners on Veterans Administration rolls. An estimated 838,000 of them may be eligible to receive a little more money if they choose to come under provisions of the new law.

There are an estimated 205,700 widows of World War II and Korean War veterans who under the new law will be entitled to the larger death pensions which widows of World War I veterans have been receiving under the old law.

Finally, it is expected there will be 72,000 brand new pensioners, not on the rolls now. They will become eligible for pensions because of the increased personal income limitation of $1,800 a year. The previous maximum income allowed for a pensioner was $1,400 a year. Pensioners with dependents will be allowed up to $3,000.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION now has in the works a preliminary notice which will go to everyone eligible to receive pension benefits under the new law.

This will be followed by two detailed information bulletins. They will tell pensioners what they must do if they wish to come under the new law. If they do not make this election, they will remain under the old law.

In the meantime, veterans and their dependents have been asked not to write in to Veterans Administration for information on their particular cases. The new law does not go into effect till July 1, 1960, so there's ample time.

Also, there are several tricky provisions in the new law which veterans and their widows should understand fully before deciding what to apply for. Under one of them, a vet might be able to get a bigger pension now, only to lose it later if his personal income goes up.

FOR INSTANCE 68.5 PER CENT of the pensioners now get $78.73 a month. This could be increased to $85 a month if a single vet's income is under $600 a year. It could go to $100 a month if he has three dependents and less than $1,000 a year other personal income.

But if the single vet's income should increase to between $1,200 and $1,800 a year, his pension under the new law would drop to $40 a month. Or if his income rose to only $615, he could get only $70 a month instead of $78.75.

And if the income of the vet with three dependents goes to $2,100 a year, he would get $45 a month. If his income goes over the $3,000 mark, he will be entitled to no pension.

Once veterans or their widows elect to come under the new law, they can't go back under old law provisions.

What the Veterans Administration has to do now is make sure there are new rules and adequate reporting on the pensioner's full income. This will include all the spouse's income over $1,200 a year. Under the new law, that's to be counted as part of the veteran's own income.

THE NEW LAW AS PASSED BY THE SENATE and finally approved makes only three changes in the bill as passed originally by the House.

A vet's pension will be reduced to $30 a month after two months' hospitalization in a VA hospital.

The House bill provision that 50 per cent of a spouse's income be counted as the veteran's own income was struck out in favor of the flat $1,200 a year exclusion.

Five dollars a month more will be paid for a second dependent and five dollars for the third in the lowest income category on the graduated scale.

For example, if a married veteran has an income of under $1,000 he will get $90 a month. This will be increased to $95 if there is one child and $100 if there are two or more children.

U. S. Non-Intervention Seen Speeding Steel Settlement

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Maybe next week there will be a settlement of the steel strike. Things point that way.

What has happened is that the labor-union leaders have discovered that this time they cannot depend on the government to intervene. It has been a union objective all along to get the administration involved in some way because, as has happened heretofore, politics usually produces a beneficial result for the unions.

But President Eisenhower is standing firm. He is determined that, while the government will do all it can to assist any mediation process, nothing will be done to favor either side or to compel a settlement.

So the situation resolves itself into a tug-of-war between the negotiators. Already, despite the pessimistic observations that have come lately from federal mediators, there are evidences that direct negotiation is producing some tangible results. At least, the issues are being dealt with by several special committees and a systematic procedure is being followed that is constructive.

What the nation is witnessing is a demonstration of how difficult it really is to settle a strike that has hardened each side and made it perilous for unions or management to seem to be retreating.

How then does organized economic power get out of the dilemma into which a strike plunges management and unions? It has been aptly said again and again about strikes that it is far easier to settle a major dispute before a strike ensues than afterwards. This is because each side takes a fixed position publicly when a strike is called and then neither side can afford to back down. Also even when there is a disposition to settle a big strike, the question of how to do it is baffling.

Cites New Machines

Take two issues—one relating to so-called "feather-bedding" and the other to the problem of wage increases. How can contract clauses be written to cover all the various ways by which lots of different steel companies would describe the allocation of work to particular classes of workmen? Unions naturally resist the introduction of machinery because, while the higher paid employes benefit, fewer jobs are available for the moment to many other workers. In the long run, mechanization leads to increased volume of business and more employment, but it is today's jobs—and not next year's—that cause the negotiators for the unions to worry when they realize what is really inevitable.

Also, how could David McDonald, president of the Steelworkers Union, face his membership if he doesn't obtain, in addition to "fringe" benefits, some kind of wage increase? A strike that ends without any wage increase is usually regarded as a defeat, and the union officers responsible are voted out of office in a subsequent election.

Maybe the steel companies, recognizing what Mr. McDonald is up against, will agree to some increase in wages. The employers like him as a labor leader. As they look ahead, the question is who will control the rank and file in the future. Will it be a radical labor leader if the present strike ends on a basis that is disappointing to the union members, or will Mr. McDonald be retained because the workers are convinced he has achieved all that, as a practical matter, it was possible to gain? The steel companies know that a price increase for steel products would be unpopular, and they have every intention of trying to forgo an increase as a contribution to the anti-inflationary fight being made today by those, inside and outside government, who understand the dangers of the wage-price spiral.

Notes Wage-Price Tie

A wage increase of some kind—perhaps a relatively small one, but nevertheless additional compensation that the workers will feel to some extent made the strike worth while—may be forthcoming. But it would have to be relatively small, since it would have to be coupled with an announcement that no price increases are to be made by the steel companies.

The way, broadly speaking, to settle the issues is well known to both sides, but the big problem is how to handle the settlement, not only in the wording of a large variety of contracts but in explaining the peace treaty to stockholders and union members.

For about all that will be proved in the end is that strikes don't pay off for either side and that some way to reach agreement before a strike occurs must be devised if organized economic power isn't going to inflict greater and greater hardships hereafter on the industries and their workers, as well as on the nation as a whole.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

STOCKHOLM—After a brief, surly silence, the off-American indomitables who "hate Communism—but" decided to deplore as infantile a hastily improvised American exhibition which had left the Muscovites awe-struck by the very luxury and beauty of the specimens and the exuberent spirit of the Nixon mission to Moscow. The complaint that this midway of ours was nothing but gadgetry implies that the Russians would have done better and in more intellectual mood. The fact is that they tried and failed horribly.

Gadgetry, however, is not only the precious treasure of the American way but the envy of the world and, thus far, the exclusive product of a culture which sells things on instalment plans. In this, the British under their depleting socialism, which has them rationing butter in a time of delicious abundance, are now trying to follow our example. They are awkwardly fomenting a local adaptation with a view to booking prepaid holiday business for next summer in their own dismal seaside resorts.

Gadgetry, meaning TV, radio, all manner of household electrical apparatus for the laundry, the kitchen and the swimming pool, is so distinctly of the United States as to deserve a place on the streamers after E Pluribus Unum. By contrast, at Gum, the Soviets' frowsy bazaar of a thousand booths, the big window display fronting on the Square and Lenin's Tomb, offered a TV with a price tag of 1950 rubles, and a radio at 715 rubles. It were idle to try to reduce these figures to dollars because the exchange is uncertain and anyway nobody is going to buy them because these samples are only teasers. There was also a phonograph, wound with a crank which was more in tune with the times in Soviet Russia because electricity for record players is scarce in proportion to the market. But even this antique is only a mocking affront to the squalid poverty of the people because only the aristocracy have money for gadgetry.

I heard and read much of this aristocracy, which is said to consist largely of toe-dancers and mathematicians living in lluxurious state. But the best apartments visible to the naked eye were the bleak cells in the long yellow brick honeycombs, most of them 10 stories high, and these were "project" apartments by our standard.

As Nixon attempted to explain in his hullaballoo with Khrushchev the credit and instalment system is the bloodstream of American finance and the social scheme. A young couple buy a house with a down payment, they have babies, the mortgage dwindles, the children and the family income grow, tastes improve, the houses loses caste as innovations come along and, in 15 or 20 years, the house has served its purpose as the home of an American family. Now it is sold toward the purchase of a better house with a prettire kitchen and bathrooms, the manufacture of which gadgetry has given work and pay to thousands of other Americans with children to buy homes for. So some new young family moves into the old place with open space all around and roses round the door. This will be derided, and, indeed, filthy premeditated and foredoomed slums of New York and other "project" cities may seem persuasive rejoinders. But notwithstanding these setbacks, not all Americans are dirty parasites too vile to learn the sanitary habits which a puppy soon acquires. I have seen the fulfillment in Tucson and other western cities of the cycle which I have here described, all since the second war.

The same may be said of our automobiles which go into second hands after 18 months or two years and so on down the line to the junkyard. The "new" smell of the new car has become as sweet as the scent of newmown hay to the American psyche and the wear and tear on the dollar caused by finance charges and taxes is a useful economic freak. It is impossible in Soviet Russia because it is of capitalism which Moscow has a dumb and dogged undertaking to destroy.

Complaint has been recorded that American businessmen did not take out of the active work of building the great new United States examples of the colossal machines which push hills aside and, like the indomitable ant, carry millions of minute loads of rock and ore out of deepening pits, and send these machines to Moscow for display. This might have impressed a few hundred thousand dumb Russians, but to what useful purpose of ours? We know we have this apparatus, it is doing its job and the people in Soviet Russia whose opinion and reaction count already know too much about them. They have access to all our patents at 25 cents each while we aren't welcome to the blueprint of a carpet-tack from their files. Their agents have seen and photographed every thing we have and desecrated Joe McCarthy's grave so it would have been pointless to send such great machines to Sokolniki Park to be sold at sacrifice after a few weeks to save the cost of shipment home.

The Russians' own industrial exhibit in their own permanent fair is not fearsome.

Their tractors are mainly junk, some of them actuallly spavined in the treads and gears by practical work before they were retired to the exhibition. They showed movies, but no working specimens, of earth-movers on distant jobs, but they were not fools enough to take them out of service to serve mere vanity before Americans who produce better.

Would Block Request

TORONTO (AP)—The Canadian St. Lawrence Seaway Authority is trying to block a request for an injunction to close the authority's international bridge at Cornwall, Ont.

Rothwell Grant of Montreal, a former Seaway Authority inspector, requested the injunction in Cornwall Court on the ground that the $7,000,000 bridge had unsafe piers.

The authority moved Wednesday in the Supreme Court of Ontario to deny the injunction. The authority said Grant's claim contained no reasonable cause of action against the authority.

Chief Justice J. C. McRuer adjourned the case.

Most Stay Away

DEADWOOD, S.D. (AP)—Most residents of this forest-fire-threatened community remained away from their homes and businesses today as forces of some 700 men continued battling three major blazes. Tom Borden, assistant state forester, said crews were seeking to prevent a breakout of the flames and the repetition of Tuesday, when flames seared a circle around Deadwood, forcing evacuation of 3,500 residents.

Claims 3 Laos Posts Attacked By Red Troops

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Communist North Viet Nam troops, crossed into Laos and attacked three army posts in Phong Saly province, the army said today. Government troops suffered losses but the number was not announced.

A communique said the three posts were clustered 20 miles inside the Laos border directly west of Dien Bien Phu, where the French army made its last bloody stand during the Indochinese war in 1954.

The attacks in the far northern province occurred Tuesday night but the news was not received at Vientiane army headquarters until today, a spokesman said.

Transport planes continue to fly in U.S. emergency military aid, consisting chiefly of infantry weapons and ammunition.

Pravda Scores Dag

Khrush Will Get $5 Dinner; Big Menu Trimmed

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is going to get the city's regular $5 special dinner, just like hundreds of other guests throughout the year.

Originally it had been planned to go all out with the menu when Khrushchev dines at the Waldorf-Astoria next Thursday evening. Champagne, caviar and roast beef were being considered.

But Mayor Robert F. Wagner has decreed otherwise. Instead of caviar it'll be crabmeat; instead of champagne it will be coffee; and the main course will be breast of chicken or beef tenderloin — not roast beef.

15,000 to Guard Khrush in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has fashioned the strongest security shield ever to protect Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev from potential assassins, demonstrators, hecklers and crackpots.

Up to 15,000 policemen, plainclothesmen, National Guardsmen and government security agents will join forces in a massive, carefully coordinated plan to watch over the Soviet dictator every foot of the way.

About 2,500 will be deployed and waiting along the route into Washington Tuesday when Khrushchev steps off a giant TU114 turboprop jet liner at nearby Andrews Air Force Base to begin his 13-day coast to coast tour.

2,500 Along Route

About a dozen Soviet secret police, led by Security Chief Nicolai Zakharov, are to be part of this unprecedented security network. A selected number will be allowed to pack guns.

Five of these Soviet security agents already have inspected the route Khrushchev will follow in his swing through six cities and are reported satisfied with arrangements for protecting their chief.

Could Arouse Feelings

The security arrangements, checked and double checked in painstaking detail, include protection not only for Khrushchev and his family but also for the 108 other Soviets, including newsmen, who are to accompany him.

These precautions have been adopted partly because of a long held fear that Khrushchev's visit would arouse bitter anti-Communist demonstrations along the way particularly from Hungarian and other eastern European refugee groups.

Thus far, however, these fears have proved groundless. Surprisingly few threats against Khrushchev's life have been picked up.

Village Board Sidelights Noted

Saugerties Village Board meeting usually scheduled the first and third Mondays of the month was held Tuesday due to the conflict of Labor Day.

The request of B. H. Dolson Company, department store on Main and Partition Streets for a loading zone space in front of their store was referred to Police Chief Arthur W. Richter for study.

Another proposal under study by the board is a request for parking space near the Maranda Inc., plant at 16 Livingston Street. Three employes appeared before the board with a petition of 31 names seeking removal of some parking meters along Livingston Street to permit employes to park.

Saugerties Girls Club was granted permission to use the municipal auditorium on Thursday evenings for winter activities of the club.

The board authorized the purchase of a suction hose for the public works department for a sum not to exceed $100.

Village Clerk Ernest R. Ackert was instructed to notify the New York Central Railroad regarding the condition of the Ulster Avenue railroad crossing. It was pointed out that the crossing is rough and spikes protrude from the wooden planks.

The board authorized the purchase of hickory splits for the street sweeping equipment.

Exemption certificates were approved by the board for Donald D. McLennon, William Schaffer Jr., and Robert Finger, all having served the required time with R. A. Snyder Fire Company.

The more important action by the board regarding the opening of bids for a new dump truck and the setting of a public hearing date on a proposed change of zoning classification were reported in yesterday's Freeman.

M-WC Vols Vote Approval of Two By-Law Changes

Malden-West Camp Fire Company approved two amendments to its by-laws, and adopted one following the final reading at the Tuesday night meeting in West Camp fire station. The other may be adopted if approved at the third reading next month.

The adopted amendment to Article 7 of the volunteer's by-laws includes the proviso that a member must attend at least six meetings a year to remain on active status. This amendment which permits an exempt fireman from another company the privileges of becoming an active fireman in this company without paying the regular initiation fee.

President John J. Helfert was delegated to contact L. LeBreton and Son of Malden and make arrangements for the drilling of wells at each fire station. Assistant Fire Chief Emmett Vedder read bids for the well drilling contract from four firms. The members assembled voted to accept the offer of LeBreton if work could be started before the cold weather.

The board of fire commissioners in a letter read by Corresponding Secretary Carl Heese Jr., approved two additional drivers, William LeBreton for the Malten truck, and Heese, for West Camp truck.

Chief William R. Wrolsen reported that a group of the volunteers worked for six hours last Saturday on pumps and saved a barge at Staple's Brickyard from sinking.

The application for active membership of Nicholas Ferraro of Malden, an exempt fireman of Glasco Fire Company, was approved by a vote of those present.

President Helfert appointed a new membership committee including Valmore F. Carpenter, Heese, and Vedder.

The local 4-H Club was granted permission to use the West Camp fire station for a dance if the fire company's insurance covers such a circumstance.

President Helfert reported that he will attend the Ladies Auxiliary meeting Tuesday, Sept. 15 at 8 p. m. in the West Camp station in an effort to persuade them not to disband. The auxiliary unit announced at a recent meeting that they would disband unless greater interest were shown in the organization by its members.

Atlas Firing Historical Event: SAC

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—The first firing of an Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile by Air Force combat troops was a success.

It added the 6,300-mile range weapon to the nation's missile arsenal.

The Atlas was fired over the Pacific Wednesday by a crew of the 1st Ballistic Missile Division from this base 150 miles northwest of Los Angeles. It was aimed at a spot near Wake Island, approximately 4,400 miles distant.

Gen. Thomas Power, commander of the Strategic Air Command, called the firing "a historical event."

Power did not disclose whether the Atlas hit its target but he said he was "more than well satisfied" with its performance.

Until the launching of an Atlas by combat troops, the ballistic missile division's top weapon was the intermediate range Thor.

Trooper Assault Case in Greene Off Till November

Trial of three Greene County men charged with assaulting State Trooper Grant Davis last May 9 at South Cairo, was put over in Greene County Court Wednesday until November. All three have entered pleas of innocent and County Judge Roy C. Moon granted 15 days for motions. It is alleged the three, Harry Hoyt Jr., of Purling and Donovan Andrus and Wilfred Burrows, both of Windham, "stomped" Trooper Davis when he stopped them after a speeding chase. Davis suffered a broken leg and finger.

Hoyt's lawyer indicated he would move for a change of venue and attorneys for the other two said they would seek to have their cases severed from Hoyt's.

In a second trooper assault case Judge Moon put the matter over until next week after assigning counsel to Norman Lee Wildey of West Coxsackie. Wildey allegedly knocked down off-duty Trooper Martin Spaats last November when the officer stopped to assist at the scene of a minor accident.

Sims, 35, rejected efforts of Amis Guthridge, a segregationist attorney, to represent him.

State Streamlines Procedure

Medical Red Tape Cut On Operator Renewals

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Some New York drivers with medical histories are encountering less red tape this year in renewing their operators' licenses.

Revisions in the application form, particularly with respect to persons who have recovered from heart ailments, eliminate "a lot of waste motion and duplication," a spokesman for the State Motor Vehicles Bureau said.

Commissioner William S. Hults said licenses of approximately 1,500,000 New York motorists expire this year. These must be renewed by Sept. 30. A driver's license is good for three years.

This year, an applicant who suffered a heart ailment more than three years ago can get his license renewed without submitting a physician's certificate.

Heretofore, he needed a doctor's statement each time he sought to renew his license, regardless of when he had heart trouble.

"There were complaints from everyone concerned every time this came up," the bureau spokesman said.

As a result, the revised renewal application asks only:

"Since your last license was issued: Have you had or been treated for a heart ailment?"

Even if the applicant answers "yes," he can get his license without delay provided he submits a physician's certificate with his renewal application. The license, however, is subject to later review by the bureau, the spokesman pointed out.

On matters the bureau considers of a more serious nature—epilepsy or fainting spells or use of drugs—a license may not be issued until the applicant's medical history is reviewed by the bureau. In these cases the history is traced 10 years.

The bureau also requires medical certification of applicants who in the last three years have had a mental illness; lost a leg, foot, arm or hand; lost their hearing; or have had a previous disability become worse.

In another change this year, applicants for learners' permits will have to pass written tests on traffic rules.

Under the present system, the permits are issued after the applicant passes a vision test and demonstrates ability to read. He takes the written test—on traffic rules and highway safety—when he takes his road test for an operator's license.

The Motor Vehicle Bureau announced this change Wednesday. It is effective next Tuesday.

The bureau said fledgling drivers were operating cars with learners' permits without having proved they knew rules of highway safety.

Studies Point Up Importance Of Eating a Good Breakfast

BY GAYNOR MADDOX,
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Hunger, caused by skipping breakfast or eating only very poor breakfasts, leads to inattention at school, slow-ups at work, arm tremors and other nervous manifestations.

Studies at schools, colleges, industry and health agencies definitely show that children do better at school and adults at work if they eat an adequate breakfast. Also that those who eat a good breakfast had better accident records.

According to U. S. Department of Agriculture nutritionists, a good breakfast must fulfill three requirements; furnish protein, vitamins, minerals; provide for body energy, and taste good. A leaflet, "Eat A Good Breakfast" (L-268) prepared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., is packed with valuable, common sense information on the importance of breakfast. Single copies are free on request from the department.

Older people also need good breakfasts. The day's food for older people should be divided fairly evenly among the three meals, starting with a well-balanced breakfast. A cereal and milk breakfast will provide the protein, calories, and other nutrients, to keep them well-nourished. It is easy to chew and digest. It also calls for the minimum of preparation. When nonfat milk is used, it is moderately low in fat and cholestrol.

The following dessert recipe is a good choice for older members of the family. It is light, popular and made with a breakfast cereal.

Apple Brown Betty
(Yield: 6 to 8 servings)

Cereal Topping: Two cups crushed shredded wheat biscuits (use bite-size, oblong, spoon-size, or round shredded wheat biscuits), 1 cup brown sugar, packed; ½ cup butter or margarine, melted.

Filling: One-half cup granulated sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ cup chopped pecans (optional), 4 cups sliced apples (5 to 6 medium), ½ cup seedless raisins, 1 tablespoon water.

Blend topping ingredients together well. Stir granulated sugar, cinnamon and salt together and combine with remaining filling ingredients; mix well. Starting and ending with a layer of cereal topping, alternate 3 layers of topping with 2 of fruit filling in a greased 2-quart casserole, 8¼x2¾ inches or baking pan, 11¾x7½x1¾ inches. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until apples are tender, 40 to 45 minutes. Serve hot or cold, plain or with milk, cream, or vanilla ice cream.

TOMORROW'S DINNER: Cold sliced ham, potato salad garnished with lettuce and sliced tomatoes, corn on cob, enriched bread, butter or margarine, apple brown Betty, ice cream, coffee, tea, milk.

Will Toll Rebuff

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP)—The bells of St. Augustine Cathedral will toll a rebuff to Nikita Khrushchev every day of the Soviet premier's forthcoming U. S. tour.

The Most Rev. Joseph P. Hurley, Roman Catholic archbishop of St. Augustine, said the tolling at 3 p.m. daily would be in remembrance of martyred victims of the Reds, and in solidarity with Americans who refuse to welcome Khrushchev.

Lands in Tree

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—With his neck wedged between two branches, a youth hung in a tree for several minutes after an automobile accident.

Robert A. Harris, 18, of Long Beach was tossed into the tree when a sports car went out of control Wednesday. Ambulance attendants brought him down. He is in critical condition in a hospital.

Youth, Fleeing Dog, Falls to His Death

NEW YORK (AP) — A woman has been charged with homicide in the death of a 16-year-old youth who fell to his death from a Bronx tenement roof while fleeing her unleased watchdog.

The victim, Jesus Delgado, was playing on the roof of the five-story building. The noise annoyed Mrs. Anna Maronet, 67, who lives on the top floor.

Police said she went to the roof and unleased her big Belgian shepherd dog. The dog lunged toward Delgado who ran to another side of the roof, leaped over a parapet, failed to reach an adjoining building, and plummeted 70 feet.

Hoover Is Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 85, has received two of the city's highest awards. He was presented Wednesday with a gold medal of honor and a citation giving him freedom of the city. New York gives its medal of honor only to heads and former heads of state.

For Private School Attendance

State Upholds Nassau Board In Paying Extra Bus Fees

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The State Education Department today upheld a decision of Long Island school district to pay transportation costs of pupils attending private schools up to 35 miles from their homes.

Central High School District 3 in the Town of Hempstead, Nassau County, voted last June to increase its budget by $17,500 to cover expenses of pupils travelling the maximum distance.

Jonas Silver, a taxpayer of the district, appealed to the state education commissioner to overrule the vote.

He said pupils sought travel funds to attend Roman Catholic and other private schools in New York City and the travel involved endangered their health and welfare.

Deputy Education Commissioner Ewald B. Nyquist said in the department's decision that it had been determined many times that voters of a school district had authority "to authorize transportation for children of the district to the schools they legally attend, irrespective of the distance involved."

He noted the voters had approved the transportation funds by substantial margins.

Oldest Resident Dies

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Julia Caroline Bearl Burr, believed to have been Utah's oldest resident, has died here at the age of 101. Born in Utah, March 30, 1858, Mrs. Burr is survived by 9 of her 13 children—part of a list of more than 450 direct descendants, including 75 grandchildren.

New Paltz Area Methodist Notes

Rally Day Service

With the coming of the fall season of activity in the church and church school the traditional New Paltz Methodist Rally Day is planned to rally members and friends to the work and worship of the church. The service will take place Sunday 11 a. m. in the sanctuary of the church, Main and Grove Streets. The Rev. Willett R. Porter Jr., pastor, will conduct the service, assisted by Sunday school students.

Mrs. Alvin Beatty, Sunday school superintendent, will preside at the presenting of promotion Bibles to those students going from the primary to the junior departments. A service of dedication will be conducted for the Sunday school teachers and other workers.

The Rev. Mr. Porter and Mrs. Beatty speaking on behalf of both the church and church school, urge all families of the church to make every effort to be present Sunday at the Rally Day Service at 11, or the early morning service at 8:30.

Sunday School Staff

Sessions of the New Paltz Methodist Sunday school resume on Sunday, Sept. 20, at 9:45 a. m., and the special church-time sessions for beginners and primary 11 a. m. Mrs. Alvin Beatty is superintendent of the school, and Mrs. Leland Heinze, secretary, and assistant superintendent. The staff includes Mrs. Frederick Sutter, Miss Marla Pritchet, Mrs. Thurlow Weed Jr., Mrs. Herbert Phillips, Mrs. Worden Masten, Mrs. Clarence Koenig, Mrs. R. Francis Hasbrouck, Mrs. Stanley Schneider, Mrs. August Martin, R. Francis Schneider, George Schneider, Mrs. Richard Larson, Mrs. Alfred Schreiber, Raymond Buckley, and Frederick Sutter. A number of college students will also be assisting as in the past.

Student Retreat

Upper-classmen who are members of the Wesley Student Fellowship, the student church program of the New Paltz Methodist Church, will be meeting this weekend at the New York Conference Center, Camp Dreamland, High Falls. They will participate with the Rev. Willett Porter, and Peter A. Jacobs, ministers of the local church, in a planning retreat designed to prepare for the coming school year.

Mr. Jacobs, a senior at the college of education, New Paltz, and local preacher in the Methodist Church, will be serving again this year as the assistant minister to students.

The first meeting at the church for students will be Sunday when supper will be served at 6 p. m. with an informal unprogrammed get-together following.

Prayer Breakfast

During the last school year a number of students met every Wednesday morning at 7:15 in the kitchen of the Methodist Church for a period of prayer and light breakfast. This was a part of the program of Wesley Student Fellowship, of which George Carpenter is president-elect for the coming school year. The first prayer breakfast will be held on Wednesday, Sept. 16. All interested students may attend.

Harvest Fair Supper

A harvest festival and baked Virginia ham supper will be served by the ladies of the Lloyd Methodist Church, New Paltz-Highland Road, Saturday evening, Sept. 19, beginning at 5:30. A fair will also be held in conjunction with the supper. Mrs. Fred Bragg is president of the Ladies' Aid Society, the sponsors of the festival. Tickets may be obtained from members of the society.

Senior Choir Rehearses

The first rehearsal of the fall of the senior choir of the New Paltz Methodist Church will be held Thursday at 7:30 p. m. Ralph Dennis is the director and Mrs. Eugene Trautwein is accompanist-organist. Prospective choir members may attend this rehearsal.

Open for Prayer

The New Paltz Methodist Church is a member of the Open-Church Foundation. Realizing the importance of houses of worship being open during the week for private prayer and meditation, the staff of the local Methodist Church extends an invitation to all who desire to come in and rest and pray, at any time.

Board Meeting

The first official board meeting of the fall will be held in the New Paltz Methodist Church Monday 7:45 p. m. All trustees, stewards, and organizational and church officers composing the official board are urged to be present.

Defense False Card Can Set

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Yesterday's hand was actually played in the Nationals in Chicago. Today's was made up to illustrate a beautiful defensive false card and is exactly the same except that West now holds the ten of spades and North the nine.

West leads his fourth best club and declarer wins the second club and ducks a diamond to East. East leads the deuce of hearts. West makes his king of hearts and returns the suit so South locates the king of spades in the East hand. West would have cleared the clubs if he had held that card.

Now South runs out all the diamonds, hearts and clubs and East has discarded two spades and a heart and West one club. Now South leads a low spade and West plays his ten. Dummy's queen will produce the king from East and now East will have to lead a spade.

South can let this ride to the nine, but will he? He will have counted West for exactly two spades and the ten spot play will indicate that his other spade is the jack. He will probably play the ace and go down.

Man Pleads Innocent To Theft of $600

NORTHAMPTON, Mass. (AP)—Francis Martin, 30, of Mills, Wyo., has pleaded innocent to a charge of stealing $600 from a New Yorker who had hidden the money in his shoe.

Martin was ordered held in lieu of $500 bail Wednesday in District Court. He is charged with larceny.

Police said Martin stole the money from Charles Rice of Allentown, N. Y., while Rice was attending the annual Three Counties Fair here in 1956.

Rice had hidden the money in the toe of a shoe secreted in his luggage in a hotel.

Ask FCC Approval

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission received applications Wednesday from Harry Greenberg, Highland Falls, N. Y., for permission to establish a radio station in Fort Montgomery, N. Y., at 640 kilocycles, 250 watts, unlimited time, and WGVA, Geneva, N. Y., to increase its daytime power from 250 watts to 1 kilowatt.

matter of FACT

The two principal motions of the earth in space are its rotation, or twirling motion like a spinning top, and its revolution, or movement in a circular path around the sun. These two motions determine when and how directly the sun's light or energy strikes the earth's surface. The earth's rotation is the cause of night and day. The earth's revolution around the sun causes the seasons—fall, winter, spring and summer—each year.

DeGraff Outlines His Plan To Finance Highway Building

Benjamin DeGraff, who is seeking the post of Superintendent of Highways for the Town of Woodstock, in a statement today said that, working with the new town board of 1960, he will be able to save enough of the highway appropriation, with no reduction in in the highway improvement program, to purchase property and build a town highway building to house and maintain the highway equipment.

This alone will save in depreciation of equipment of approximately three thousand dollars $(3,000.00) per year, said DeGraff. He said this can be done within the present highway budget without any increase in the highway tax.

DeGraff stated that the present highway superintendent's official estimate of town highway machinery equipment is far below the actual value of said equipment. Several items are not listed on the present superintendent's itemized machinery report which is submitted annually. DeGraff says that the present value is approximately $60,000.

The highway budget for 1957 was $61,422.18; for 1958 it was $72,517.99 and for 1959 was $78,972.40. There has been an increase of $17,550.22 in the highway budget over the past two years.

Charges Inadequacies

DeGraff stated that the facilities of the present town highway garage are insufficient for the operation of an efficient highway department, as the building is:

1) inadequate for the proper maintenance of valuable highway

2) too small for the proper storage of highway equipment, and,

3) a fire hazard, which in the event of a fire could cause the heavy loss of highway equipment.

At present, highway materials, such as gravel, sand, crushed rock, etc. and some equipment are stored in the open, about one mile from the present highway garage. This entails a loss of time and labor of the approximate expense of five hundred dollars ($500) per year, DeGraff charged. He proposed a plan of a new site and highway building which will comprise a tract of land three acres in area. This will make it possible to store the highway materials in the immediate vicinity of the highway building instead of one mile away, as they are at present.

Outlines His Plan

The proposed building would be of cement blocks, DeGraff said. It would be large enough for the proper maintenance and storage of highway equipment. The building would be financed by:

a) the saving of the depreciation of equipment which is approximately three thousand dollars yearly, as previously stated, and,

b) the approximate five hundred dollars per year saved by combining the material storage area with the highway building.

The above two items, DeGraff said, will be a saving of a total of approximately thirty five hundred dollars yearly. An additional $4500 could be acquired from item one of the highway budget, making a combined total of eight thousand ($8,000) dollars.

Money taken out of the Highway Fund would be added to the General Fund, which will prevent a raise in taxes.

The proposed project (land and building) will be an estimated cost of forty thousand dollars ($40,000) which could be fully financed in five years with no reduction in highway construction and maintenance and also no increase in highway taxes, DeGraff said.

Napanoch Head

mately 200 guards belong to the Local as contended by John Martin, secretary of the Local. Numerous other guards contend that only about 30 per cent of the uniformed guards are represented by the Local.

Secretary Martin declined to state to reporters whether the group had "officially voted" to send the telegram to Governor Rockefeller but stated that he knew "something was in the wind."

Call Them Disgruntled

Other guards at the institution allege that the prison is run more efficiently now than during the administration of the prior three superintendents, and say that the trouble stems from a "small group" of disgruntled guards who have been assigned to easy jobs in the past and now have to "toe up to the mark and resent it."

There are allegations that guards who have been "lax" have been "cracked down on" and are required to see that prison discipline is maintained. It is alleged that some guards have permitted inmates to veer from regulations in regard to neatness and minor regulations and are now being required to enforce these rules. This applies to neatness and regulations as the inmates move to mess hall and work treas. Other guards say that since the type of inmates was changed and the "juvenile" group admitted it is "question of keeping on our toes."

The present population at the prison is about 1,000 and the capacity of the prison is 1,400. About 70 per cent of the inmates are in the mentally defective category.

Says No Unusual Unrest

While the guards who ask for McKendrick's removal, charge there have been "repeated" outbreaks of violence in his 2½ year administration, Superintendent McKendrick said, in regard to the prospect of riots:

"There is never a time in a prison when you can say there won't be any. There is no unusual unrest among the inmates, however, I would say there is no present danger of any prison riots."

In Albany, Deputy Commissioner John Cain of the State Correction Department, said he had visited the institution three times recently and "it seemed to be very well run." McKendrick, Cain said, "seems to be doing a pretty good job."

The deputy said he had seen no signs of unrest at the prison or any indication that treatment of inmates was "too easy or too harsh."

Serious Riot 40 Years Ago

Last year there was a fracas at the prison between a number of Puerto Ricans and Negroes which took several hours to quell by prison officials. There were no serious injuries. The prison's only serious riot occurred about 40 years ago when a guard and an inmate were killed.

The Napanoch Institution was founded as a branch of the Elmira Reformatory, but after World War 1 became a state center for mentally defective youths. For the past two years young first offenders have been sent to the institution, the first group coming over from Woodbourne prison.

The text of the telegram which was sent to Governor Rockefeller following Tuesday's meeting at Napanoch is:

"This organization is impelled to urge removal of Charles L. McKendrick superintendent Eastern Correctional Institution at Napanoch. Prompt action and investigation urgent to prevent riots by juvenile inmates. Repeated efforts by Council 50, AFL-CIO, have failed to impress Department of Correction of dire circumstances surrounding Napanoch management by McKendrick, and his failure to act requires his immediate removal.

"His arbitrary administration, low employe morale brought on by his favoritism, supervisory incompetence and malice; continuing high level of tension among inmates, repeated outbreaks of inmate disturbances and McKendricks apparent lack of concern over deteriorating situation are nothing short of dynamite.

"The community faces possibilities of severe prison riot, juvenile inmates in effect run the prison.

"Employes lives are endangered and welfare of our State is at stake because of laxity and coddling of inmates encouraged under administration of Charles L. McKendrick."

The telegram was signed by Jean J. Couturier, executive director of the New York State Employes Council, and Al Wurf, assistant regional director.

They are not employed at the correctional institution in Napanoch, it was reported today.

Koczur to Face Grand Jury on Assault Charge

Paul J. Koczur, 22 of 43 Abruyn Street, Kingston, charged with unlawful entry and second degree assault on a Saugerties hotel and tavern owner is being held for the grand jury after a preliminary hearing before Saugerties Police Justice G. Thomas Rea Wednesday afternoon.

Also being held for the grand jury is William G. Bray, 32, who gave his address as the Eichler Hotel.

Both appeared Aug. 29 before Justice Rea following charges by Patsy Mauro, proprietor of the Imperial House, 49 Partition Street, Saugerties.

Saugerties police said Mauro reported he was accosted by two men in his bedroom above his business establishment after closing August 29.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph P. Torraca appeared for the county at the hearing.

Driver Is Injured In Kerhonkson Mishap

Antrij Solczanyk, of Chester, Pa., was injured at 2 p. m. Wednesday when his automobile went out of control and overturned on its top in a dry gulley off Fordmore Road 20 feet west of Berne Road, Kerhonkson.

State Police Corporal Nicholas Lecakes of Ellenville, said the car was traveling east on Fordmore Road when the operator lost control on a right curve. The automobile went off the north side of the road and landed upside down in a gulley.

Lecakes said Solczanyk suffered several lacerations of the forehead and a sprained right shoulder. He was treated at the office of a physician where he was taken by Ernest Roier, of Kerhonkson, who was working on a nearby roof when he heard an auto horn sounding. He investigated and found Solczanyk in the overturned vehicle.

Asks Favorable Stand

A bid for favorable action at Washington to permit a satisfactory local urban renewal project has been made by letter, Mayor Edwin R. Radel said today. The mayor said he has asked for favorable action by Congressman J. Ernest Wharton and Senators Jacob K. Javits and Kenneth B. Keating. A presidential veto of a measure to provide urban renewal funds, the mayor noted, becomes a local "road block". In noting Congressman's "No" vote on recommiting the bill, the mayor asked him to reconsider his stand "and make urban renewal funds available."

Two Traffic Cases Reported by Police

A driver was booked for alleged lack of license and registration after a downtown mishap early today, and the car of Pratt Boice, of Lake Katrine, president of the Ulster County Savings Institution, was reported struck on East Chester Street due to a driver falling asleep last night.

Roswell J. Bradford, 19, of Nassau Road, Nassau Lake, issued summonses on the charge after a mishap at Broadway and Mill Street shortly after midnight. The other car, police said, parked at the curb, was owned by Harrison M. Dart Jr., of 67 West Union Street, Bradford is due in city court Friday.

In the other mishap, police said, a car owned by Kathryn Washburn, of 735 St. James Street, Rome, N. Y., and driven by Paul Gary Washburn, 21, of the same address, hit the Pratt Boice car as it was parked near 393 East Chester Street.

The driver of the Washburn car, police said, listed as the "apparent cause" of the mishap, the fact that he "fell asleep."

authority as soon as possible. He recalled that the authority on March 10 adopted a resolution which committed it to pay up to $1,500,00 of the city's $2,075,000 total share of the expense of rights-of-way for the $12,500,000 artery.

Stillman said that the bridge authority feels, that it should, along with the city of Poughkeepsie, make every effort to eliminate the uncertainties connected with the Poughkeepsie arterial highway especially as they create distress and financial hardship to property owners within the right-of-way but at the same time, as chairman of the authority "I have a responsibility for insuring that any agreement between the authority and the city can be carried out by the authority and does not work hardships on the authority's toll payers in all areas of the Hudson Valley."

Car Found Quickly

State Trooper W. L. Shurter of Ellenville recovered a 1956 sedan within a few minutes after it had been reported stolen at Kerhonkson. Rene Black, of Kerhonkson, notified authorities at 6 p. m. Wednesday that someone stole his automobile. Trooper Shurter began a search and found the vehicle abandoned on Camp Hayden Road, Kerhonkson. Investigation will be continued in an effort to learn the identity of the thief, authorities said.

Fourth Polio Case

with polio, a report from Albany said infantile paralysis was running nearly 66 per cent ahead of last year's rate in the 57 counties outside New York City.

The New York State Health Department said reports showed a total of 120 cases since the first of this year, compared with 72 cases for the same period in 1958.

More Before Salk

In the years just prior to introduction of the Salk vaccine, however, there was an average of 732 cases in the eighth-month period.

Ulster County's third polio case was that of Daniel A. Barnhart, well-known farmer, who had received two polio shots, the second one last spring. He died August 29.

The county's first case was reported late in June, that of a Saugerties girl, 17, who had had two Salk shots. Her case was called mild, and her recovery complete within a few days.

The second case was that of a four-year-old Town of Ulster boy, who had received all three Salk shots. It was reported late in August.

It is the policy of the health department to withhold names of those stricken with polio, unless, as in the Barnhart case, death occurs. He suffered "fulminating" or rapidly progressive polio, according to the health department.

Motorist Is Fined $50 on Lesser Charge

Elebert Rodney Carey, 29, of 42 Stephan Street, charged June 14 with leaving the scene of an accident, pleaded guilty today before City Judge Aaron E. Klein to the lesser charge of reckless driving and was fined $50.

Carey, police said, was booked on the first charge, after a reported mishap involving his car and that of James R. Bell, 32, of 42 Teller Street, at Stephan Street and Foxhall Avenue. Attorney Joseph D. Saccoman appeared for the defendant.

Trial began today of Camburn L. Mumford, 51, of Oak Street, Town of Ulster, who was arrested earlier in the summer on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Attorney Charles J. Saccoman appears for the defendant and Joseph P. Torraca for the district attorney's office.

Memoriam

In sad and loving memory of my dear wife and our mother, Livia G. Thomas, who passed away four years ago, Sept. 9, 1955.

The rolling stream of life rolls on.
But still the vacant chair

Javits Favors Keating Against Pollution Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York's two Republican senators split in voting Wednesday night on an 800-million-dollar bill designed to help cities clean up water pollution.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits voted for the measure. Sen. Kenneth B. Keating voted against.

The Senate Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen, said President Eisenhower was strongly against the bill.

It calls for 80 million dollars annually in grants to cities over the next decade to aid them in building waste treatment plants.

The measure was sent to the House.

Javits and Keating both voted for a third-try billion-dollar housing bill that carried administration approval.

3 Face Contempt Charges as Result Of Rail Picketing

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Three members of a railway local here will face contempt charges as a result of recent picketing at the New York Central Railroad's East Buffalo yards.

Federal Judge Harold P. Burke Wednesday ordered the Central to file the charges against Aloysius J. Pilarski and Donald H. Grabenstatter, officers of Lodge 1176, Brotherhood of Railroad Carmen. Samuel Caputa, a lodge member, will also be named in contempt action.

Several members of the lodge picketed the yards Aug. 31 in protest to the furloughing of 30 carmen helpers.

The Central charged the two officers of the local failed to halt picketing in compliance with a restraining order issued by Judge Burke the same day. Caputa was cited for allegedly picketing in open defiance of federal marshals after they served a copy of the restraining order on him.

Judge Burke scheduled a hearing for Sept. 22 and at the same time reserved decision on motions filed by the railroad and union in last week's legal cross fire.

The local charged the Central violated the Railway Labor Act in furloughing the carmen helpers, who oil freight car journal boxes. The railroad assigned their jobs to carmen, the union said.

The Central countered with a motion for dismissal of the union motion and asked for a continuance of the restraining order against picketing.

Ike Gets Transit Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower had before him today a bill passed by Congress to authorize creation of a New York-New Jersey transportation agency.

The Senate passed the measure Wednesday and sent it to the White House.

The bi-state compact would create an interstate agency to deal with matters affecting public mass transit within and between the two states.

Florida Visitor Cooled

BINGHAMTON, N. Y. (AP)—Frank Jones, 40, visiting here from Vero Beach, Fla., met with a Northern cold front in 87-degree weather.

Jones slipped in front of a local ice company and fell against a 300-pound block of ice. He was only slightly injured.

Two Youths Are Sought After Fleeing Camp

PHARSALIA, N. Y. (AP)—State Police and Conservation Department workers searched today for two youthful offenders who escaped from a state youth camp deep in the woods near here.

Harry Fritz, supervisor at the Chenango County camp, said Robert G. Amell, 18, of St. Johnsville, and Ronald F. Edington, 18, of Geneva, walked away from a work detail Wednesday and fled into the woods.

Both were serving indeterminate sentences and were due to appear before a parole board in three months.

The minimum-security reformatory for youths 16 to 21 is one of two operated by the Correction Department. The other is at Monterey, Schuyler County.

Gov. Rockefeller has said the state plans to establish similar camps as a means of curbing mounting juvenile violence.

The escape is the second since the North Pharsalia camp opened Oct. 2, 1956. A boy fled six months after the camp opened but was found in nearby woods five hours later.

Before the escape, there were 52 boys at the camp.

Attorney Asks Jury Minutes on Laino

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—An attorney for Utica's Frank Laino has asked to inspect minutes of a grand jury which indicted Laino there on charges of state income tax evasion.

The State Supreme Court Wednesday, reserved decision on the motion.

Paul R. Shanahan, Laino's attorney, said books and records Laino produced for the Utica grand jury were used to support the indictment. This was a violation of his right to protection against self-incrimination, Shanahan sad.

Laino was called before the special grand jury investigating vice and gambling last March. On July 2, he was indicted on three counts charging he and his company, the Laino-Fisk Tire Service, evaded state taxes totaling $583.93.

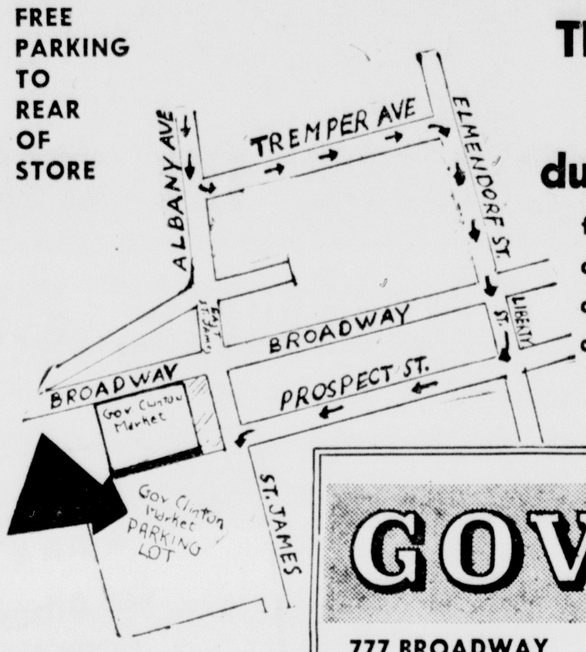

Laino pleaded innocent and was freed in $2,500 bail pending trial.

Associate Justice Henry J. Kimball told Laino's attorneys they could move for dismissal of the indictment only if they won the right to inspect the minutes.

County Receives Share of Motor Vehicle Taxes

Ulster County's share of the distribution of $2,204,311.64 of motor vehicle tax receipts announced today by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt is $23,702.70.

The total distribution figure is the share of state-collected motor vehicle fees for the three months ending June 30, which is being returned to the counties in accordance with the state highway law.

The law provides that 25 per cent of the fees collected under the vehicle and traffic law, exclusive of application fees and service charge for special plates, from residents of counties be returned to local government.

The money is deposited by the counties in the county road funds, from which expenditures for construction and maintenance of county road systems are made. The money paid to the City of New York is to be credited to the city's general fund for construction and maintenance of city streets, highways and parkways.

New York City's share of the three-month distribution totals $662,852.18. Dutchess county will receive $25,647.31 and Greene County's share is listed at $13,323.31. Columbia County will receive $8,934.41.

Safety Director Asks All to Obey School Bus Law

Lively young eyes should command as much or even more respect than flashing red lights, Walter E. Bligh, State Director of Safety, said today in commenting on the Stop School Bus law.

"No one who has ever looked into the face of a child could deliberately jeopardize his safety.

"The thousands who pass stopped school buses each year, do so, I'm sure, in a moment of forgetfulness.

"Children, some of them only six years old, are utterly dependent on motorists as they make their way to and from school.

"Unless drivers rigorously respect the flashing red lights, they are affording the wee folk far less than they deserve.

"September is a time of change for both motorist and pupil. For motorist, so that he will again be on the lookout for the big yellow bus; for the school child as he moves through the maze of traffic to and from school.

"Love 'em," Director Bligh said, "give them every advantage and by all means let them grow.

"Obey the school bus law. Help youngsters go safely to and from school."

Cherney Says Charge Of Girl Is Untrue

Continued in County court today before Judge Louis G. Bruhn and a jury was the Andrew Martin Cherney rape action. Testimony on behalf of the prosecution was concluded and the defense called several witnesses. Karen Miller, 15, formerly of Kingston, now a resident of River Road, Port Ewen, charges Cherney last March committed the act alleged. The defendant denies the allegation and testimony was offered on behalf of defendant this morning to the effect that the Miller girl told a friend Cherney had "snubbed" her and she lodged the complaint against him.

Assistant District Attorney John E. Gotelli appears for the prosecution and William Curran for defendant.

Marchers Show Opposition To Curtailed Bus Service

Babes in carriages joined the march also in opposition to no bus ruling of board of education. The Freeman cameraman took these pictures at the Port Ewen side of the Rondout Creek Bridge.

Conglomeration of signs express views of marchers demanding school bus service for areas that are considered hazardous.

These women and children display banner stressing "Consolidation, yes; transportation, no." Their contention is that they were led to believe consolidation would not change bus operation existing previously.

House Overrides Ike First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House voted today to override President Eisenhower's veto of the second public works appropriation bill.

Until today, the House had never voted to override an Eisenhower veto.

The roll call vote was 280-121, 12 votes more than needed to override.

A great shout went up at the announcement of the vote, marking the first time since Eisenhower took office that the House has mustered the necessary two-thirds vote to pass legislation despite the President's rejection of it.

The vote sends the $1,185,309,093 measure to the Senate where prompt action is expected. If the Senate also votes to override, it would be the first of 146 Eisenhower vetoes in more than six years that has been overridden.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dropped irregularly in very quiet trading today.

The list failed to hold an initial edge to the upside which it achieved after two days of severe battering.

The market was moving at its lowest level since mid-June.

Motors wiped out their early gains and slid off moderately. Steels, rubbers, coppers, oils, rails and tobaccos were lower.

Electronics, building materials and some airlines managed to stay ahead. Chemicals and utilities were mixed.

Wall Street once again believed that the Federal Reserve Board might raise the discount rate after the market close today.

American Motors, after touching another new high, backed away and showed a fractional loss. Ford was the worst performer among the automotive issues, dropping more than a point.

Jones & Laughlin declined more than a point while Republic and U.S. Steel were off about a point.

Merck was around a point to the good.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 50 cents to $222.30 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails down 40 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

Government bonds firmed for the first time this week.

very homes of the demonstrators could have burned to the ground because of the traffic block," the supervisor said. "A doctor or an ambulance on an emergency call would have been delayed sufficiently so that death, otherwise avoidable, could have resulted. The very children, whose safety in going to and from school is being questioned, were purposefully thrown into a hazardous situation by those parents who are concerned for their safety."

Banyo said that the adult example of "mob hysteria and breaking of the law" was quickly copied by youngsters waiting for school buses. "They too were going into the streets to stop traffic—for no reason other than following the example of their elders," the supervisor said.

Reply on Counsel, Advice

Concluding his statement, released to the residents of the Town of Ulster at a regular town board meeting, Banyo said:

"As town supervisor I cannot offer any solution to my people in the bus controversy, since I have no jurisdiction in this regard. However, I ask that they refrain from attempting to solve this problem by violation of the law and by creating emergency situations. I would advise that they rely more on the counsel they have employed to represent them, rather than on force."

State Building

communication from Mabie. Maeder agreed that the "rock cut" was a potential hazard for children walking along Route 9W, and said he was "astounded to learn that the children would be required to walk through the cut."

Hearing Set Sept. 30

A public hearing was scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 30 at 8 p. m. at the Town Hall on the proposed new rules and regulations governing the operation of the Port Ewen Water District.

The board accepted a plan of the Spring Valley Acres development engineer to provide proper drainage in that housing project.

The builders of the Orchard Knolls development in Port Ewen were given 30 days to complete previously agreed upon road and drainage installations in that project. If the work is not completed by that time, the board will ask forfeiture of a performance bond and the work will be let out on contract for completion.

It was announced that the preliminary budget for 1960 will be complete and read at the October 7 meeting. All figures for inclusion in the new budget must be submitted to the Town Clerk by September 30.

Supervisor Mabie appointed a committee including Justice of the Peace Allan Dargie, Councilman Stirling Potter, and Water Superintendent Harry Newton to meet with representatives of the Board of Fire Commissioners of Port Ewen Fire District to plan for the installation of fire hydrants at the Mircale Mile Shopping Center on Route 9W.

To Attend Conference

Town Highway Superintendent Paul Mercier was granted permission to attend the highway superintendents convention at Rochester September 23 to 25.

The board authorized Brinnier & Larios of 41 Pearl Street, Kingston to explore and develop the location of new test wells to provide additional water supply for the Port

CR Blowup Could Keep Congress in Session for Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of a blowup over civil rights legislation caused leaders to abandon hope today of adjourning Congress this week.

Instead, the Senate started planning for a session early Monday hoping that, unless the civil rights bomb explodes, one more long day can complete the year's legislative work.

Fuse Is Hissing

The threat of still further delays rested on the possibility of a strong Southern battle against extending the life of the Civil Rights Commission, which issued this week a report many Southerners didn't like.

Any such move almost certainly would bring on a counter-drive by advocates of strong civil rights legislation to enact extensive new laws.

With the fuse hissing, no one could say definitely that the bomb would explode, but none dismissed the possibility.

Other major pieces of the year's legislative pattern started falling quickly into place.

The House was ready to accept a third-try housing bill which the Senate passed 86-7 Wednesday and which had assurance of administration approval. President Eisenhower has successfully vetoed two previous housing bills, which he called inflationary.

Showdown Is Assured

A showdown was assured during the day on Eisenhower's veto of a second public works money bill which reached him only Wednesday. The House adjourned before it could receive the message Eisenhower had prepared, but arranged to vote today. And Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas alerted the Senate to be ready for a mid-afternoon vote on the veto if the House overrides the President's objections.

House action sent to Eisenhower a bill raising from 3 to 4 cents a gallon the tax on gasoline and other motor fuels effective Oct. 1 to assure continued construction of superhighways throughout the nation.

But the civil rights issue, and the controversy always provoked by the foreign aid money bill to which it is attached, held the key to adjournment possibilities. The measure goes before the Senate Saturday.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said in an interview there is no chance that work on the money bill, the last major legislation of the session, can be completed before Monday.

Indian Relics

WESTFIELD, N. J. (AP) — Dr. Charles A. Philhower has spent much of his 81 years digging up Indian relics and studying Indian history. Now, he is giving his collections—some 40,000 items—to Rutgers University. "They belong in a university where they would be available for study," Philhower says.

north of the city in the Chambers School area.

Traffic Re-Routed

For about an hour this morning, all northbound traffic was re-routed by Deputy Smith through Salem Street, and long lines of slow moving trucks and pleasure cars passed to New Salem and crossed the Eddyville bridge to enter Kingston.

Police Sergeant Carl C. Janasiewicz, who with Police Chief Robert F. Murphy directed several policemen in handling traffic on the north end of Rondout bridge, told a reporter that about 250 women and children walked slowly across the bridge before 7:30 a. m.

Orderly, He Says

"They were all very orderly and there was no disturbance" the sergeant said. "They were all very cooperative.

One mother carried a placard which read:

"We Want Our buses back."

A small child in a baby carriage held a sign which read:"

"Help keep us safe."

A little girl waved a placard which read:

"Buses or bust."

Shortly before 8:15 a. m. the crowd at Rondout Bridge began to disperse. A bus, donated by Chappie's Taxi of Port Ewen appeared from the bridge and several women and children boarded it for a ride back to Port Ewen.

"Yeah, we ride, the children walk," said one mother as she carried an infant into the waiting bus.

Just as Many Marchers

Undersheriff Clayton Vredenburgh, who toured the school district suburban area yesterday and today with Sheriff Claude Bell, said the groups of mothers at Rondout bridge and on Route 9-W north of the city line and along Route 209 and in the Hurley-Four Corners area were about as large today as they were on Wednesday.

Yesterday afternoon while children were returning home from school to their homes in the Port Ewen area, a large crowd assembled on the north side of Rondout bridge, a policeman worked to prevent a serious traffic tie-up during a rush period.

As buses transporting children to their homes passed the crowd the pupils cheered and waved.

Parents continue to insist that the rural areas were promised bus transportation before consolidation.

School district officials point out that the law provides that children living within a certain distance from their schools are not entitled to bus transportation. In the Kingston consolidated district, elementary pupils living within a mile of the school and secondary students residing within two miles of the schools are not transported by bus.

Before consolidation, the marching mothers pointed out, their youngsters did get bus transportation, but now they must walk on dangerous highways such as Route 9-W through the "rock cut" and along 9-W north of the city line where traffic is exceptionally heavy.

"The rock cut section of Route 9-W is dangerous to our children," said one mother. "What will the situation be during the winter, when snow is pushed back from the road into the gutters. Then the children will have to keep on the pavement. The dangers to the youngsters then will increase and the hazard will be greater."

There has been talk overheard in groups of mothers that they will refuse to permit their children to walk to school during winter storms or during periods when highways are hazardous due to ice or snow.

party expected to make further announcements in regard to city candidates for supervisor and alderman.

Thus far the Economy Party has endorsed the candidacy of Dr. H. C. McNamara of Hurley for coroner. Dr. McNamara was the Democratic choice and last year was the Economy Party's choice for office of coroner in a "write-in" campaign.

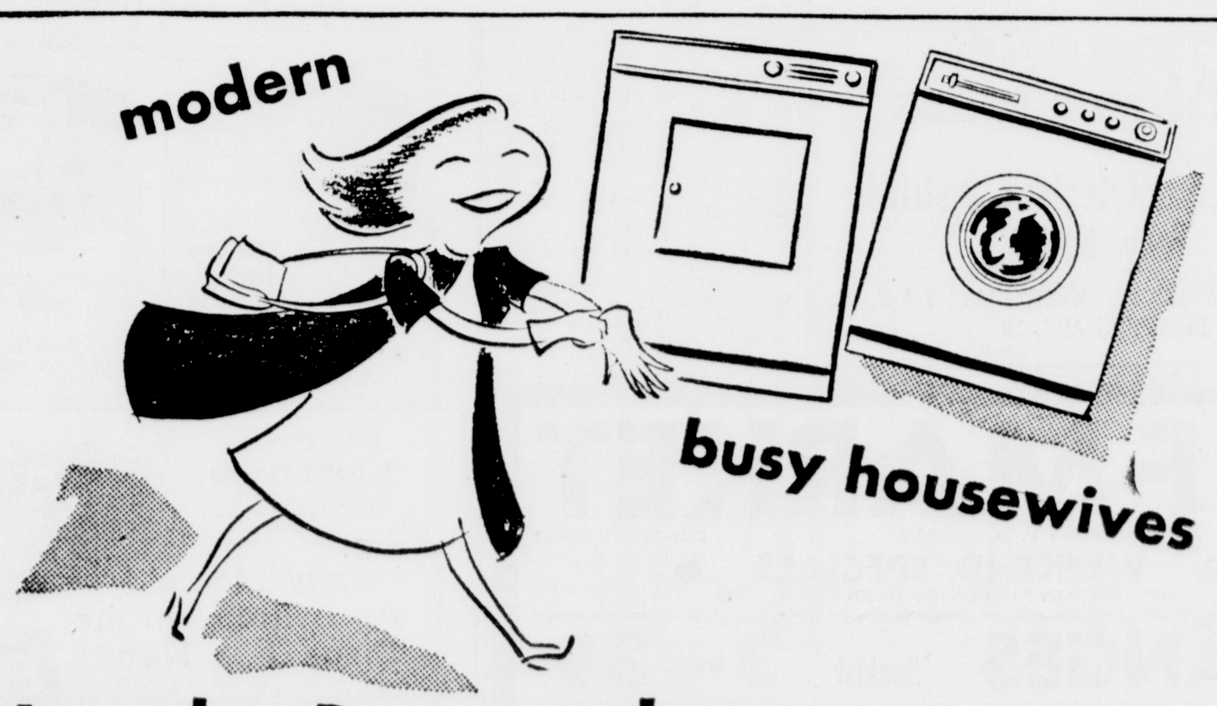

Won't Enter Two Races

Singer said it was not expected the Economy Party would have candidates on the ticket for other county offices. In fact Singer said the Economy Party expected to "stay out" of the race for sheriff and surrogate, the only other two offices to be filled at the November election.

Worthington L. (Dick) Rider has been named by the Economy Party as candidate for mayor with Gerald F. Conrad now as his running mate. Other Economy Party candidates will be Joseph Turck, 4th ward Democratic supervisor; Robert F. Phinney, 11th ward Republican supervisor, and William Davis, 13th ward alderman who is presently serving as the Liberal Party representative of his ward in the council. Davis will have the support of the Liberal, Democratic and Economy Party.

Before time for designations expires, Singer said, it was hoped the Economy Party would have a full slate for alderman and supervisor in the city.

Delaware Will Move to Indict 8 in Bombing

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—Delaware Atty. Gen. Januar D. Bove said today he will press for the convictions of eight white men accused in connection with the bombing of the only Negro home in suburban Collins Park.

He said that he will call a special session of the New Castle grand jury Sept. 22 to consider indictments against some or all of those accused.

Meanwhile, Gilbert Minnick, 49, of Collins Park, was given a hearing before Magistrate Frank J. Carello Jr. on charges of malicious mischief and third degree burglary in connection with a second bombing at the George Rayfield home Aug. 2. Carello reserved a decision until a later date.

Minnick is among the eight men awaiting grand jury action on charges stemming from the first bombing at the Rayfield home April 7.

Scientists Anxious To Study Capsule Returned to Earth

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Scientists waited anxiously today to examine a one-ton model space capsule that survived a fiery re-entry through the earth's atmosphere.

The study is expected to provide valuable information for Project Mercury—the U.S. program designed to put a man in orbit within the next two years.

The capsule—the same size and shape as the vehicle which will be used on the first manned orbit—was being rushed to Puerto Rico early today by the Navy destroyer that plucked it from the Atlantic Wednesday northeast of the West Indies island of Antigua.

An Air Force plane was ready to fly the capsule to Cape Canaveral late today or early Friday. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration may show it to newsmen after a preliminary study.

Heading the team will be Shinichi Shibusawa of the Japanese foreign office, his country's former ambassador to Thailand, Laos and Spain.

'Face to Face' Talks on Steel Are Turned Down

NEW YORK (AP)—Steel executives have again rejected face-to-face negotiations with Steelworkers Union President David J. McDonald.

Negotiations in the 58-day-old strike resumed today between four-man union subcommittees and similar groups from each of the steel firms.

McDonald Wednesday renewed his proposal for face-to-face bargaining.

The executives, chief officers of the 12 negotiating companies replied in a statement:

"The negotiations to date have not suffered from any lack of authority in our bargaining team. We urge you, therefore, to lay aside efforts to seek another forum and to come to grips with the problems with the established bargaining team which, as you know, has the necessary authority."

The walkout has idled 500,000 steelworkers and thousands of additional workers in allied industries.

Gov. Rockefeller Optimistic Of 'Pay-as-You-Go' Plan Soon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller is optimistic that he can put the state on a pay-as-you-go basis by next year. It would be a major fiscal achievement.

It could have an important effect on the governor's attractiveness as a presidential candidate. Next year is a presidential election year.

Talks at Fair Dinner

"I am very hopeful that the state will be back on a pay-as-you-go basis this next fiscal year," he said Wednesday night at the annual State Fair Farm Dinner of the Syracuse Chamber of Commerce.

He is here to tour the State Fair today.

New York has been dipping into reserves in recent years to come up with a balanced state budget, which is required by the State Constitution.

The Republican governor did not go into details but said his administration "had taken steps to restore the integrity and soundness of the state's fiscal affairs."

Last month, he told all department and agency heads to submit, along with their annual budget requests, a plan showing how they would slice their spending by 5 per cent.

No Boosts in Line

He also told the officials that no department or agency could ask for more money than they got last year, except under extraordinary circumstances.

Rockefeller's current two-billion-dollar budget for the fiscal year ending next March 31 includes 133 million dollars from the reserves and bond funds.

To achieve pay-as-you-go, Rockefeller would have to obtain additional revenue or cut expenses to make up the 133 million dollars. Additional operating funds would would have to be found to cover any budget increases.

To finance his budget, Rockefeller initiated a round of tax increases this year. The tax program prompted a squabble when he arrived here Wednesday.

Haggle Over Taxes

As Rockefeller stepped from his private plane at the Syracuse Airport, Thomas F. Mahar of Syracuse, a General Electric employe active in opposition to the tax program, thrust a statement at him.

The questions were critical.

The governor pointed a finger at Mahar's chest and asked: "Have you got any children?"

"Yes," Mahar replied.

"You are going to be very lucky those children are going to get a good education," Rockefeller told him.

"They should have with the taxes we are paying," Mahar retorted.

"What are you trying to do to cut costs?," the governor asked.

Rockefeller said later he did not read Mahar's statement, which was a copy of a letter the man had sent to the governor yesterday.

Poses Two Questions

When a reporter offered to show it to him, Rockefeller said he was not interested.

It posed two questions.

One asked why Rockefeller appointed a three-member State Harness Racing Commission, at $50,000 a year, to replace a one-man commission at $20,000 a year.

The second questioned the governor's appointment of L. Judson Morhouse, Republican state chairman, to a $17,000-a-year post on the State Thruway Authority that had gone unfilled for two years. The lapse showed "doubt as to its necessity," Mahar said.

After his brush with Mahar, the governor told a news conference he was "still concerned about taxes."

No Survey Yet

"We are certain the services rendered are necessary," he said, "and we are working to develop the most efficient utilization of every dollar collected. We want to reach a pay-as-you-go basis as rapidly as possible."

Newsmen asked him whether he was considering the use of the Veterans Rest Camp at Mt. McGregor, Saratoga County, and the former Sampson Air Force Base near Geneva as sites for work camps for potential juvenile delinquents.

"We haven't started a detailed survey yet as to what facilities may be used," the governor said. "They will have to be in farm areas where the boys can work on conservation projects."

Ends Tour of Duty

First Lt. Louis C. Fredd Jr., who has been stationed at Fort Sill, Okla., with the 17th Artillery since his return from Korea in March arrived Aug. 29 to spend some time with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis C. Fredd Sr. of Kerhonkson. His term of active duty in the army ended Sept. 2.

This month Lt. Fredd will begin graduate work in biology at Cornell University where he has been awarded an assistanship. He will act as a research assistant in conservation.

Will He Try to Sell Communism?

Visit to United States Likely Will Be Big Test for Khrushchev

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

The man who heads the world's most spectacular road show had to hint, wheedle and threaten for more than two years before he achieved the peak of his ambition as a showman: a booking for a United States tour.

Now that he has achieved it, the tour starting next week likely will prove the supreme test of Nikita Sergeyevich Khrushchev's career as a traveling salesman for the Soviet brand of communism.

Becomes Traveler

Until about four years ago the world outside the U.S.S.R. was a blank to Khrushchev. Since then he has become an exuberant traveler. But he never takes a trip without specific purposes in mind.

Khrushchev began hinting in June 1957 that he would like to visit the United States. The hints received scant attention. He tried again. On New Year's Day, 1958, he toasted President Eisenhower, saying: "If the Soviet Union and the United States could get together and reach agreement, most of the world's problems would be solved."

Next day the whole Soviet press took up the cry for a meeting between the Soviet Premier and the American President. Hints multiplied thereafter. Khrushchev indicated he was willing and eager to visit the United States for a summit meeting. Again the hints got nowhere.

Why So Eager?

Vice President Richard M. Nixon's tour of the Soviet Union this summer contributed to a noticeable thaw in Soviet-American relations. Khrushchev finally got the invitation he had wanted so badly. And the question arose: Why was Khrushchev so eager?

Even before preparations were complete for his trip, there were signs that the impending visit was causing aggravations among members of the North Atlantic Alliance. Many were not too sure the Big Two might not, as Khrushchev phrased it, get together and solve the world's problems without reference to smaller nations. Even President Eisenhower's trip to Europe fell short of putting all these nagging fears at rest.

Khrushchev himself had some troubles in that respect. The Red Chinese were unlikely to be enthusiastic about the U. S.-Soviet exchange.

Chance to See

But in any event the bouncy Khrushchev seemed to look forward with relish to his prospective new adventures as communism's No. 1 tourist.

Khrushchev would be able to check personally on reports he had received about the United States from official tourists who had preceded him.

Khrushchev's first sally beyond the Iron Curtain was to Communist Yugoslavia in the spring of 1955, with Nikolai Bulgainin, the premier he later dumped, in tow.

The love feast was spectacular. But it did not survive the 1956 Hungarian uprising. Moscow placed much of the blame for that on Tito's example.

Khrushchev's first trip outside the Red orbit came in the summer of 1955. The era of smiles bought a summit meeting in Geneva, but the "spirit of Geneva" soon faded before the chill wind of a newly toughened Soviet policy.

In the winter of 1955, Khrushchev, with Bulganin respectfully in the background, roared through Burma and India, scattering insults all the way.

Keeps Traveling

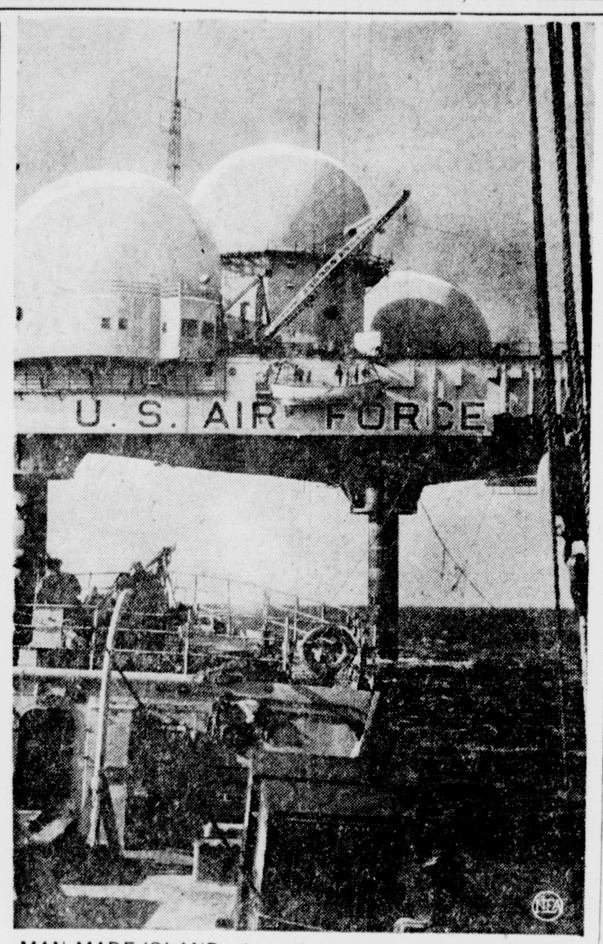

Thereafter Khrushchev was on the go frequently. It was nothing any more for him to make sudden, unannounced trips to Communist capitals for his own political purposes: to Prague, Warsaw, Sofia, Budapest, Tirana and to Red China's Peiping. It was far more than junketing.

On his last trip to Peiping, Khrushchev apparently received a jolt. He had expressed willingness in mid-1958 for a summit conference on the dangerous Middle East crisis. After he returned from Peiping, looking gray and shaken, he reversed himself and rejected the idea of such a meeting.

But Khrushchev bounced back quickly and was off to Poland for another whirlwind tour, even then planning on a trip to America. If Peiping didn't like it, Khrushchev didn't seem to care too much any more. He was anxious to get the show on the road again.

But there have been signs that even the fabulous energy of the Soviet leader has its limits. He has some kind of kidney or liver ailment and has eased off noticeably on his drinking—even, indeed, attempting at the same time to put all the rest of the Soviet Union on the wagon. He has spells of weakness and dizziness, and sometimes he seems to speak a little incoherently.

Yet Khrushchev seems to be the last to want to admit that he's been wearing down. He just wants to go, go, go.

Teenagers, Who Ran From Homes, Held in Robbery

MOOERS, N. Y. (AP)—A teenaged boy and girl, who had run away from their downstate homes, were arrested today after they robbed a rural grocery store at knifepoint, State Police reported.

State Police discovered the pair in an automobile parked on a side road in woods outside this northern New York village.

They identified the boy as Edward Walmsley, 16, of Rye. They said the girl was aged 14 but declined to reveal her name. They said her home was in Poughkeepsie.

They said the two ran away from their homes four days ago.

The two ordered groceries Wednesday at a roadside store near here, then, flourishing knives, compelled the store's elderly proprietress to let them go without paying, police said.

The woman, Miss Ena La Bierre, about 60, was not injured.

Police charged the boy with first-degree robbery. The girl, a juvenile, was not charged.

Border Watched For Heroin Data After One Arrest

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Narcotics men on both sides of the border were attempting to track a Canadian source of heroin today after the arrest of a man here who had allegedly picked up a $25,000 shipment.

Albert E. Moreton Jr., 33, was arrested by Buffalo police Wednesday about an hour after he allegedly received the shipment. Police said one package of bulk heroin was found in his car and three more in an apartment nearby.

Moreton, an ex-convict, was free on bail pending trial on grand larceny charges at the time.

Jobless Pay Is Going Out Soon To Steelworkers

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 23,000 idled steelworkers in New York State will start receiving unemployment benefit checks soon.

Alfred L. Green, executive director of the Employment Division of the State Labor Department, said Wednesday checks for half a week will be in the mail next week or the week after to those who have claimed them.

The following week, the striking United Steelworkers members can begin claiming full weeks of compensation under the law.

Green said all but about 7,000 of the estimated 30,000 idled steel workers in the state have applied for jobless benefits. They became eligible after the shutdown reached the seven-week mark last week.

The biggest number of applicants came from the Buffalo area.

A little more than 4,300 persons in allied industries also have been idled by the strike, Green said. So far, he said, only 1,172 of these have sought jobless benefits.

Benefits run as high as $45 a week.

Mayor Names 22 To Help Reduce Harlem Tensions

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner has named a committee to help the city reduce racial tensions in Harlem.

The committee, announced on Wednesday by Wagner, consists of five city officials and 17 Harlem civic leaders.

Wagner had promised to set up the committee after an incident July 13 in which two white policemen were accidentally shot while dispersing a crowd in Harlem during an arrest.

Title on Line Tonight

HASTINGS, Neb. (AP) — The 1959 American Legion junior baseball little world series title is on the line tonight in a second straight game between Detroit, the pre-tourney favorite, and Phoebus, Va.

Detroit beat the club from the little Virginia suburb of Hampton Wednesday night by a 5 to 3 score. It was the first defeat for Phoebus and evened the teams at 2-1 to set up tonight's contest.

Wide Alarm Out For Truck With $100,000 Cargo

NEW YORK (AP)—Police have issued a 15-state alarm for a truck containing merchandise valued at $100,000. It was stolen Wednesday night while its driver was away.

Rexford Tiffany, of Kingsley, Pa., told police he had parked the truck at a warehouse in lower Manhattan. He said he went inside to pick up papers and when he returned 15 minutes later the truck was gone.

It contained numerous types of merchandise, from clothing to canned goods. Owned by Oneida Motor Freight Inc., the truck was to make its delivery in Rochester, N. Y.

Infant Killed, Mother Critical in Car Mishap

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Eight-month-old Patrick McCarthy was killed Wednesday when an automobile mounted a sidewalk and struck him, his mother, and nine-year-old brother.

The driver, Mrs. Alice Democker, 45, told police she lost control of the car when the accelerator jammed and the brakes failed. She was injured slightly when the car caromed into a nearby brick wall.

Daniel, the dead boy's brother, was in critical condition today with head injuries. The mothers, Mrs. John McCarthy, 34, was in fair condition. Both of her legs were broken, doctors said.

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — The research arm of industry is in for a bigger shot of financial vitamins.

Many corporations stepped up their spending on research and development during the recession convinced that new products or new processes were the way to lick it.

See New Era of Sales

This year they're putting even more in the kitty because they see a new era of bigger sales on the way — and research is still one of their best bets to outplay the other fellow.

The billions that industry pours into this endeavour are described by several sources, both Washington officialdom and private research groups.

The American Management Assn. reports that 582 firms tell it this year's budgeting for research and development is, for the group as a whole, 12 per cent above the money spent in 1958. In that recession year they spent 4 per cent more than in 1957.

Outlay Is Heavy

The Department of Commerce sets forth in its statistical abstract of the United States that industry's spending on such endeavors expanded from 430 million dollars in 1945 to 4¼ billion dollars in 1957. And today's outlay from both government and private sources is estimated to be running at 10 billion dollars a year.

The U.S. Bureau of the Census further notes that the fastest growing group in its classification of the working population is the professional and technical one.

Why do hard-headed treasurers of corporations approve money for the often nebulous activities of company scientists?

Dr. Philip Marvin, research and development chief for the American Management Assn. has a blunt answer.

New Products Help Profit

"New products tend to produce added profits and often have a greatly magnified multiplying effect on earnings," he says.

"Corporations that are ahead usually stay ahead and it is becoming increasingly difficult for late starters to catch up.

"Those corporations that can capture leadership positions in the use of new technology within specific industries can command their destinies, both with respect to directions taken and profit levels achieved."

Looking back on 1958, a year that started poorly for many firms but brightened in the final months, the companies report that as a group their new product spending averaged 3.2 per cent of the sales dollar, compared with 2.8 per cent in 1957.

This year the industry increasing its spending the most is the automotive one, up 32 per cent — with the new compact cars doubtless taking a large slice of it.

Next in line are: Instruments, up 30 per cent, electrical machinery 24 per cent and metalworking 22 per cent.

Catholic School To Open Monday

Some 215,800 students will be enrolled in the Catholic schools of the Archdiocese of New York when the 1959-1960 school year opens on Monday, September 14, an increase of approximately 6,800 over last year, it was announced by Monsignor John Paul Haverty, Archdiocesan Superintendent of Schools.

Of this total, 170,000 boys and girls are registered in 328 elementary schools and 45,800 students will attend 103 high schools in the Archdiocese.

The Archdiocese of New York includes the boroughs of Manhattan, The Bronx and Richmond and the seven up-state counties of Westchester, Putnam, Dutchess, Rockland, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster. It covers an area of 4,717 square miles.

In announcing these figures, Monsignor Haverty explained that in Manhattan, The Bronx and Richmond, 118,500 pupils are enrolled in 185 elementary schools and 36,150 students will be in attendance at 65 high schools. This total of 154,000 students in the Catholic schools of these three boroughs of the City of New York that are contained in the Archdiocese represents an increase of 4,024 over the 1958-1959 registration.

The 483 Catholic schools of the entire city, including those in Brooklyn and Queens, the two boroughs in the Diocese of Brooklyn, will enroll over 369,950 students for the coming school year.

In the counties of Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland, Sullivan, Ulster and Westchester, which comprise the suburban areas of the Archdiocese, 51,500 children are enrolled in 143 elementary schools and 9,650 registered in 36 high schools. In Westchester County alone 31,600 pupils are expected in the elementary level with an additional 7,450 high school students. This total of 37,407 students exceeds by 1,643 the 1958-1959 enrollment in this area.

Equitable Credit, State Loan Merge

ALBANY — The directors of Equitable Credit Corporation, Albany, N. Y., and State Loan and Finance Corporation, Washington, D. C., have agreed upon terms to consolidate and merge these corporations, subject to certain conditions and approval of the shareholders.

The consolidation will join the two companies together rather than have one taken over by the other.

The resultant company is to be known as the State Loan and Finance Corporation and will have a total of 402 branch offices operating in 27 states and the Province of Ontario, Canada. It will be the fifth largest consumer loan company in the country, with total assets in excess of $155 million.

W. A. Bean, chairman of the board of Equitable Credit Corporation, said the signing of the merger agreement was authorized by the company's directors Aug. 20. The merger is subject to the approval of the stockholders of both companies. The meeting date for the stockholders of Equitable Credit Corporation has been set for September 29. Davis Weir, chairman of the board of State Loan and Finance Corporation, said the date for the meeting of its shareholders will be announced shortly.

Equitable Credit Corporation has 100 branch offices located in nine states and the Province of Ontario. State Loan and Finance Corporation has 302 offices in 22 states.

All officers and personnel of Equitable Credit Corporation will continue on an active basis with the combined company. W. A. Bean and C. I. Bean will be senior vice-presidents and members of the board of directors. N. J. Herbert Jr., and Earl H. Newbery will be vice-presidents, and F. J. Huebner will be assistant secretary of the corporation.

Headquarters office will be in Washington, with Albany as a regional office for the northeast and Canada.

In commenting on the merger, Davis Weir said it will be to the mutual advantage of customers, security holders, and personnel of both companies. "The wide geographical diversification brought about by this consolidation and the combining of resources, management, personnel and operating procedures of the companies should provide increased safety, additional earnings, a more active and wider market for shareholders, and make possible the expansion of operations on a nationwide basis," he said.

Middle Years Can Be the Time to 'Live It Up'

"Our house seems so empty now that our youngest child has left home. What can I do to keep from feeling completely useless?" asks a woman of 55.

First, you can start being a full-time wife. Any woman who is so wrapped up in her children that her only thought when they are finally grown is, "what can I do with myself?" is sure to have been taking her husband for granted through the years.

So how about concentrating on him for a while? He's probably lonely, too.

And now that you have the time to do some of the things you've always thought you'd like to do—why not get going?

Are you friendships in good repair? If not, now is the time to make an effort to be with your friends, to do things for them, and to widen the circle by taking the first steps that turn acquaintances into friends.

If you are dissatisfied with yourself "as is" you'll never have a better time to start making improvements. Giving yourself a "new look" will help to give you a new outlook on life.

And what about the future? Are you going to just drift along? Why should you when you and your husband now have a chance to work for what you want—after years of working for "what's best for the children?"

Are you and your husband financially secure? If not, you might think of getting a job and helping him in the struggle to put aside something for the years ahead.

If you've been frugal all your life, maybe now is the time to start living it up a little.

Each woman has to make the most of the middle years in her own way. Just be sure to make the most of them—for they can be happy, contented years.

EAT DAFFODIL FARM
"Higher Complete Protein To Calorie Ratio"
ENRICHED BREAD FOR

RICH RED BLOOD

Blood cells are protein structures. Thus, plenty of protein is needed for rich red blood. Daffodil Farm Bread is also enriched with iron . . . another important part of your blood.

Safe to say, protein is the most important food for the body. Because it takes protein to build the structure of the body.

STRONG BONES AND TEETH

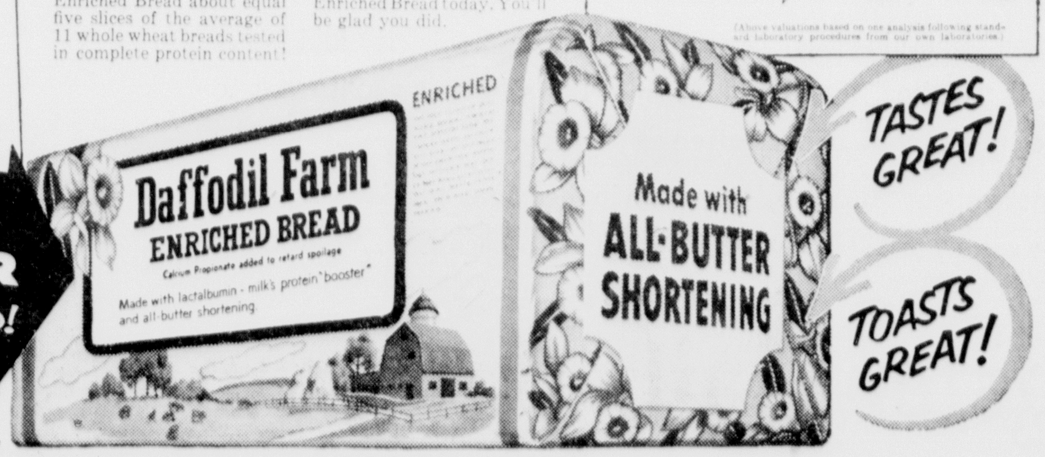

75% of muscle structure (dry) is protein. Pound for pound, the growing child requires TWICE the protein of an adult.

Bones and teeth growth is dependent upon protein. For protein makes the "mold" into which Nature puts the hard minerals that make the bones.

The "growing ends" of the long bones which determine height must have plenty of the right kinds of protein. Or growth will be retarded due to improper or inadequate deposition of minerals.

Chevrolet Joins Small Car Battle With Its Corvair

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP)—Chevrolet officially joined the small car battle today with details on its new Corvair, America's first car with the engine in the rear.

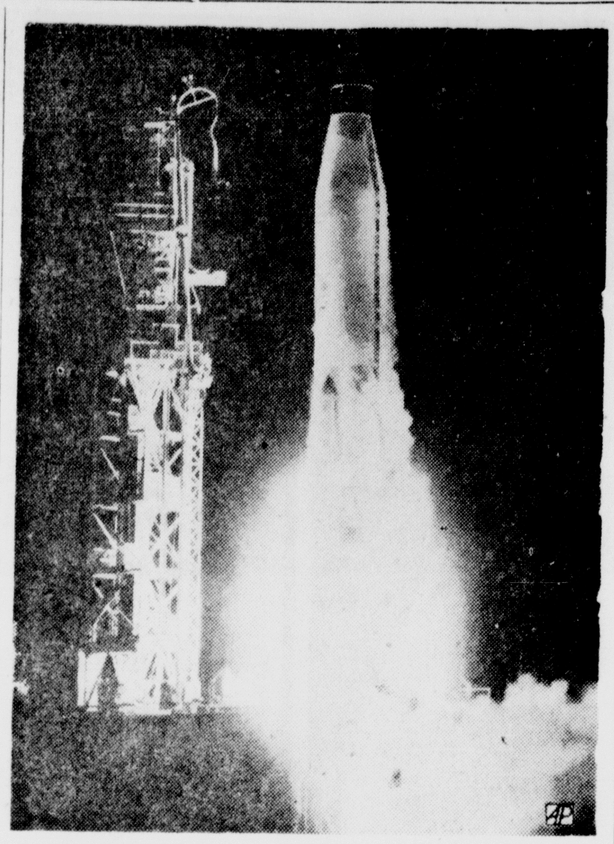

Ford unveiled its small Falcon a week ago. Still to come from the big three automakers is Chrysler's Valiant. It will be along in November. The Corvair will go on sale Oct. 2; the Falcon on Oct. 9.

The Corvair has an air-cooled, six-cylinder engine made mostly of aluminum. This engine is mounted in what up to now always has been the trunk compartment on American cars. The location is the same as in the Volkswagen and Renault, the two sales leaders among foreign cars.

The Convair will be built at first only in four-door sedan models. These will weigh 2,375 pounds. They will be 15 feet long, about 2½ feet shorter than the 1959 Chevrolet; 4 feet 3 inches high and 5 feet 7 inches wide. It will have about 90 horsepower. A two-door model will be offered early next year.

Like the other two new compact cars, the Corvair will have a unitized body—a one piece unit rather than a body shell bolted to a frame. Rambler also uses this type of body construction.

Ed Cole, Chevrolet's general manager, told a national press preview today that the Corvair will get 25 to 40 per cent better mileage than the standard Chevrolet six-cylinder model.

Saugerties Scouts Slate Historical Hike on Weekend

Saugerties Troop 130, Boy Scouts of America, under the leadership of Scoutmaster Robert Gardner will make an historical trail hike Saturday and Sunday, starting out from Saugerties Police Station at 8 a. m.

This is in keeping with the New York State Year of History. Gardner has chosen the theme "That Our Children May Be Patriots, We Tell Them of Our Fathers" from Brink's History of Saugerties, written in 1902.

The troop will walk the Old Kings Highway leading out of Saugerties stopping at several old landmarks, which Gardner will describe in detail, and give the boys a resume of the past history of each famous spot. Among these will be the Kiersted Homestead, the Old Post Tavern, Schoentag's Tavern, and Person's old Stone House, where John Jacob Astor had his fur trading post with the Indian called Night John. They will visit the Katsbaan Church and erect an historical point marker in Asbury at the spot where the troops were welcomed home from the Battle of Saratoga in 1777.

On Sunday they will proceed along the trail, finally arriving in West Camp where they will visit the historic St. Paul's Lutheran Church founded by the Palatines in 1710. Next year the church is celebrating its 350th anniversary.

Mouse May Have Caused Fatal Shock

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—The death of a South Whitley, Ind., welder, first believed caused by a heart attack, was attributed Wednesday to electric shock, and a mouse may have been to blame.

James D. Maggard, 33, was found dead beside a welding machine at a Fort Wayne factory. Coroner Edgar Mendenahll found burns on his hands and returned a verdict of death from electric shock.

Officials took the welding machine apart and found a dead mouse between two terminal points. They said the mouse could have caused a short circuit which caused Maggard to be shocked when he turned on the switch.

POTATO CHIPS

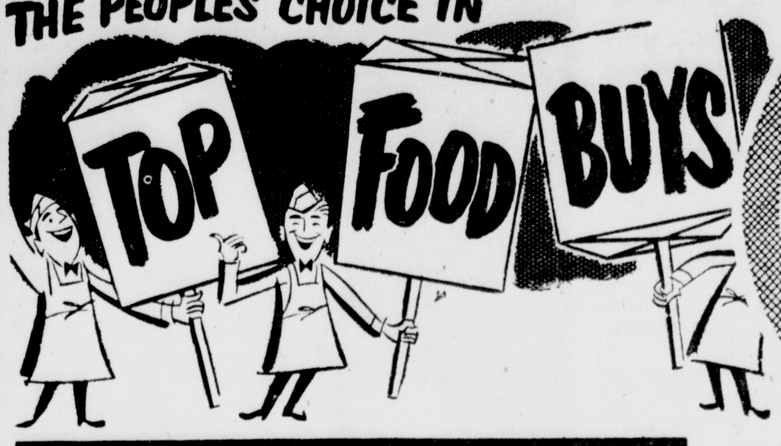

One reason for the golden color and fine, fresh flavor of Wise Potato Chips is that they are always prepared in vegetable oil.

Nor will just any vegetable oil do. Pure, mild corn oil, similar to the cooking oil so popular for your own kitchen use, is the only one we use. It may seem fussy but we even insist on a special quality corn oil, pressed from the heart of ripe, golden kernels.

Our unvarying use of this corn oil not only helps give Wise Potato Chips their distinctive color and flavor but also makes them more digestible and nourishing. It's one more reason why more people find they like Wise Potato Chips better . . . and why Wise Potato Chips are better for you.

Muench-Barnett Wedding Is Announced; Bride Wears White Silk Organza Gown

Miss Jeanne Margaret Muench, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Callis of Brooklyn, wed Lee Carl Barnett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Barnett of Kingston on August 30 at 2 p. m.

County Judge Louis G. Bruhn officiated at the ceremony held at the Governor Clinton Hotel. It was a double ring wedding. The wedding reception was given at the hotel immediately following the ceremony. More than 85 guests attended.

White carnations and aisle baskets of flowers were used for decoration.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Callis. She wore a white silk organza gown styled with a bouffant skirt. White velvet rose appliques accented the neckline and skirt. A pillbox type crown held her fingertip veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of Butterfly orchids with swansonia.

Miss Dorothy Swanberg of Brooklyn, as the maid of honor, wore a blue silk organza dress styled with a full skirt, "V" neckline with matching crown and accessories. She carried a cascade of yellow roses.

Wearing the same styled gown as the maid of honor was the bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Sullivan of New York City. She carried pink baby roses.

Linda Barnett, the bridegroom's cousin, was the flower girl. She wore a dainty blue chiffon dress with matching blue hat and shoes. She carried a basket of rose petals.

Robert Barnett of Kingston was his brother's best man. James Sylvestri of Kingston was usher.

The bride was graduated from Erasmus Hall High School and the Barbizon School of Modeling. Her husband, an alumnus of Professional Children's School, Kingston High School and Ithaca College, is a member of Kappa Gamma Psi. He is employed as social director at Williams Lake.

When Mr. and Mrs. Barnett return from their wedding trip to New York City and Atlantic City, N. J., they will reside in Kingston.

Unprecedented Three-Way Tie Concludes Talent Portion of Miss America Pageant

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP)—An unprecedented three-way tie climaxed the talent competition of the Miss America pageant Wednesday night.

Talent winners were Miss Pennsylvania, Miss Connecticut and Miss District of Columbia. At the same time, Miss Washington took the swimsuit award and all four contestants were thus assured of at least a $1,000 scholarship.

Miss Pennsylvania, 21-year-old Lois Janet Piercy of Springfield, Pa., won the judges' favor in art and music.

Miss Piercy displayed a large oil painting. She sat next to it and played an original composition on the flute. Both music and painting bore the same title — "Night Rain on the City."

A tractor figured in Miss Connecticut's efforts.

Spectators craned their necks as Diana Martha Klug, 21, of Torrington, Conn., rumbled on stage atop a tractor, which she is proficient in operating.

Miss Klug, who grew up on a farm, then presented a dream skit which presented her as a farm girl aspiring to wear other-than-farm-girl clothing.

Virginia Noble Pailes, blonde, 21-year-old Miss District of Columbia, won acclaim for her rendition of "It All Depends on You." Miss Pailes wore a floor-length pink chiffon sheath with matching pumps and white elbow-length gloves.

Miss Washington, Sharon Joyce Vaughn, 21, of Seattle won the swimsuit competition in a white bathing costume. Miss Vaughn is a senior at the University of Washington, stands 5 feet 7 and measures 36-22-36.

On Saturday night, Miss America herself will be crowned as successor to this year's title holder, Mary Ann Mobley of Brandon, Miss. With the title goes $10,000 in scholarships and an estimated $75,000 in personal appearance dates. The "losers" will split up $26,000 in scholarships.

OPENING MAIL ADDRESSED TO ANOTHER

Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening some friends of ours visited us and during the course of the conversation, the subject of opening letters came up. The wife insisted that it was perfectly all right for husbands and wives to open each other's mail and that those who objected to this had something to hide. Of course my husband and I disagreed with her and this caused quite a heated discussion. She even went so far as to say that she read in your column that this was a perfectly proper thing to do. Will you discuss this, please?

Answer: I have never said, or written, that either a husband or a wife may properly open letters addressed to the other, nor for that matter should parents open their children's mail.

Evening Clothes on Shipboard

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are going to Europe shortly. We are traveling first class. We live in a simple community where evening dress is seldom worn and therefore neither my husband nor I own evening clothes. We would like to know if evening dress is necessary for dinner aboard ship?

Answer: Not at all. A certain number of passengers (especially the young who want to dance) do dress in evening clothes on the de luxe liners. But even on these, many others prefer not to change into evening clothes. In fact, overdressing aboard ship is in very bad taste.

Welcoming a Future Son-in-Law

Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter will receive her engagement ring very soon and the thing that is puzzling me is the proper thing to say to her fiance expressing approval of him. I would be grateful for your help in this matter.

Answer: If you know him well, you probably kiss him and say, "I couldn't choose a nicer son-in-law." If you do not know him very well, you could say, "The fact that Mary loves you makes me sure that her father and I will both share her opinion."

Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-36, entitled, "The New Baby," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. Mary Eileen Parsons Weds John Graney Jr. Before Nuptial Mass at St. Mary's, Hudson

MRS. JOHN JOSEPH GRANEY JR.

(Neefus photo)

Miss Mary Eileen Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parsons of 515 Prospect Street, Hudson, wed John Joseph Graney Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Graney of Kingston on Saturday, Sept. 5 at St. Mary's Church, Hudson. The Papal Blessing was received and read.

Officiating before a Nuptial Mass was the Rev. Robert Hart. Seated in the sanctuary were the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly of St. Mary's Church, Kingston; and the Rev. Thomas J. Phillips of Poughkeepsie.

Mrs. Robert Parlman was soloist and Miss Eva Scuitto was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of silk organza over taffeta with fitted lace bodice, scoop neckline trimmed with silk flowered appliques and short shirred sleeves. Her full skirt was fashioned with a chapel train. A fingertip veil of silk illusion was caught to a lace and tulle cloche. She carried a bride's bouquet of stepanotis, ivy and a white orchid.

Miss Mary Marshall of Kearney, N. J. was maid of honor for her cousin. She wore a waltz length gown of silk organza in cognac color. Worn over taffeta, the gown was trimmed with rust colored velvet. She also wore a matching headpiece and carried a cascade of dark bronze chrysanthemums with roses.

Attired in gowns identical to that worn by the honor attendant were the attendants, Miss Mary Jane Burke, Bronx, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Jean C. Atwell of Upper Red Hook.

Leo M. Henderson of Kingston was best man. Ushering were Robert Conlon of Kingston, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Joseph Meany of Ithaca.

For the wedding, the bride's mother wore a blue silk organza dress with matching accessories and a white orchid. The bridegroom's mother wore a mauve lace dress with matching accessories and a white orchid.

A wedding reception for more than 175 guests was given at the General Worth Hotel, Hudson.

The bride was graduated from St. Mary's Academy in Hudson and St. Francis Hospital School of Nursing in Poughkeepsie. The bridegroom is an alumnus of Kingston High School and Niagara University, Niagara Falls. He is employed as a territorial manager by Wyeth Laboratories in Batavia.

After their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Graney Jr. will be at home at 39 Prospect Avenue, Batavia.

Second Annual Fall Fashion Show Is Set For Tuesday by Old Dutch Women's Guild

A bounty of rich fabrics, lavish furs used in new and exotic ways, the stunning impact of key-colored costumes and polished tailoring in fall suits, are items being considered by the "Fashion Elegance," the second annual fall fashion show at the Old Dutch Church. Sponsored by the Women's Guild, the show will be held in Bethany Hall, Tuesday, Sept. 15, 8 p. m.

Approximately 50 garments will be modeled during the evening with commentaries pointing out the style as well as the practical values of many of the costumes. Clothing for little ones, the college girl, young matron, business girl and grandmother will be displayed. Sleep wear to the formal evening dress will be included.

Some of the models will color-key their hair to their costumes for the show. Color coordination is a high point in the fashion world this fall and promises to be an integral part of many a showing.

Assisting the committee with plans for elegance in setting, Fred J. Johnston will have charge of the stage decor. Dorothy Darrow will play the musical background and Mrs. James R. Cook, general chairman, will be the commentator.

Several special features are being planned including the boutique booths and the modeling of an antique wedding gown. Sample favors of toiletry articles will be available to all attending.

Tickets may be obtained at the door, from Mrs. Charlotte Peck, or the church office.

Merchants participating include Adler's Outfitters to the Young; Helen Davenport Dress Shop; Gladys Hathmaker Dress Shop; Kingston Luggage; Robert Kreinis Famous Brand Shoes; Leventhal Furs and Casual Wear; London's Youth Centre and Junior Bazaar; The Rose Shop; United Cut Rate Pharmacy; and Weisberg's Specialty Shop.

Employment, Jobless Off Last Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—Both employment and unemployment declined in August. The job total, although curbed by the steel strike, still was a record for August.

The Labor Department announced Thursday that employment, affected by a big seasonal drop in farming as well as the steel shutdown and early auto industry model changeover, declined to 67,241,000. This was down 353,000 from the 67,594,000 employed in July.

Unemployment in August declined to 3,426,000, or 318,000 less than the 3,744,000 idle in July.

Seymour Wolfbein, deputy assistant secretary of labor, said that aside from the steel strike layoffs, the "underlying employment situation is very good."

White Trial Is

now, by the AFL-CIO International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. About 45 of 140 workers struck.

White disclaimed any animosity toward legitimate unions but considered Dugan an interloper and trouble maker. They quarreled outside the plant and later drove away from the picket line to resume their argument.

The executive said he shot Dugan after the union boss came at him with hand in pocket as though on a gun. It turned out Dugan was unarmed.

Last month, the slain man's widow, the mother of two small daughters, filed a $510,000 damage suit in New York City's federal district court against White and Chester Cable. She claimed her husband was slain without provocation.

Kentucky Man Is Held Here for Tampa Officials

A 35-year-old Lexington, Ky., man was in the Ulster County jail today awaiting extradition to Tampa, Fla., where he is wanted on a burglary charge, according to State Police Corporal N. G. Lecakes of Ellenville.

Lecakes said Roland Bryant Cotter surrendered to Trooper Michael Mahoney at the Ellenville sub-station on Wednesday afternoon, and said he was wanted by Tampa authorities.

State police communicated with police at Tampa and were told a warrant was held by that department charging Cotter with burglarizing a grocery store in Tampa in June, 1958.

Cotter was booked on a holding charge of public intoxication. He was sentenced to 10 days in the Ulster County jail pending the arrival of Florida authorities.

Lecakes said Cotter told troopers he would waive extradition and return to Tampa to face the burglary charge.

State Police Corporal Nicholas Lecakes of Ellenville said shortly after noon today that no trace of a 24-year-old Napanoch mother and her 3-year-old daughter, has been reported.

Mrs. Shirley DuMond and her daughter, Bonnie, have been missing from home since Monday. They were reported missing by Vincent DuMond, an employe of Channel Master Corporation in Ellenville.

Troopers have sent out a 13-state missing persons alarm.

TODAY...10 P.M. THE NEW-SIZE FORD STARTS ON ITS WAY TO YOU!

The Falcon, the New-Size Ford, already is the most thoroughly tested and proven new car in history. Today this new Ford Falcon starts EXPERIENCE RUN, U.S.A., over every mile of numbered U.S. highway

This is not a test run in the ordinary sense of the word. For in its 3 years of development and over 3 million miles of proving, the Falcon has already passed and repassed every kind of test that could be devised.

It's been dust-tested, heat-tested, and endurance-tested on the test track at Kingman, Arizona. Wind-tested and rain-tested in the 300 mph wind tunnel at the University of Maryland. Shock-tested, curve-tested, brake-tested, noise-tested, paint-tested, stability-tested, service-tested . . . everything-tested on Ford's own proving grounds.

The Falcon has already proved to engineers that it can take anything they can dish out.

Now, Experience Run, U.S.A. will show you what the Falcon can do over your kind of roads. How many miles to the gallon? Records will be kept of every drop of gas used. Better gas mileage, you ask? The Falcon will average up to 30 miles per gallon! Experience Run, U.S.A., will also demonstrate the Falcon's sports car handling and agility, plus its big-car ride and comfort. And America will learn how easily the Falcon can carry six big-adults plus all their baggage.

On October 8, the New-size Ford will be at your Ford Dealer's . . . for you to experience. See your Ford Dealer today for more information on the 1960 Ford Falcon.

Knights of Columbus Beats Rotary, 8 - 6 for BRL Title

Ferraro Pitches 3-Hitter; 13 in Row for Champs

Knights of Columbus cinched the 1959 Babe Ruth League championship by defeating Rotary, 8 to 6, in single game playoff last night at Dietz Stadium.

Mike Ferraro unfurled a three-hitter and struck out 10 for the Knights, who completed a perfect season with 13 straight victories.

The Knights, trailing 6-4 at the end of five innings, came up with four runs in the top of the sixth to cinch the title. Ferraro turned back the Rotary without trouble in the last of the sixth. No details of the Knights' game winning rally were reported.

The new champions collected nine hits off Jim Burns, who fanned four and walked two. Ferraro issued seven free tickets to first.

Smedes Batting Star

Vince Smedes took batting honors for the Knights with a double and triple. Ferraro helped himself to a single and double and Tom Cioni doubled. Ed Hofbauer had two singles.

One of the three hits off Ferraro was a triple by Bob Broberg, who also singled. Don Johnson singled for the other Rotary safety.

Holmberg Newest Threat in Tennis

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Ronnie Holmberg, a big, blond senior at Tulane by way of Brooklyn, is only 21 but he already has run the gamut in tennis.

Five years ago, he was rated one of the top young hopes in the country. But after beating Rod Laver of Australia for the Wimbledon junior title in 1956, he never made much more progress.

Today he plays the same Laver in the quarter-final of the Nationals. Now no one is so sure Ronnie is a has-been—least of all Ronnie. He polished off Davis cupper Earl (Butch) Buchholz Wednesday 6-3, 7-5, 8-10, 5-7, 6-3. Buchholz was seeded No. 7.

Except for Holmberg's upset of Buchholz, things progressed in normal fashion Wednesday. Top-seeded Alex Olmedo of Los Angeles ousted young Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, 6-3, 6-2, 6-4, and second-ranked Neale Fraser of Australia bounced Rudy Hernando of Detroit, 6-0, 6-2, 6-3, to advance to the quarter-finals.

Seixas Eliminated

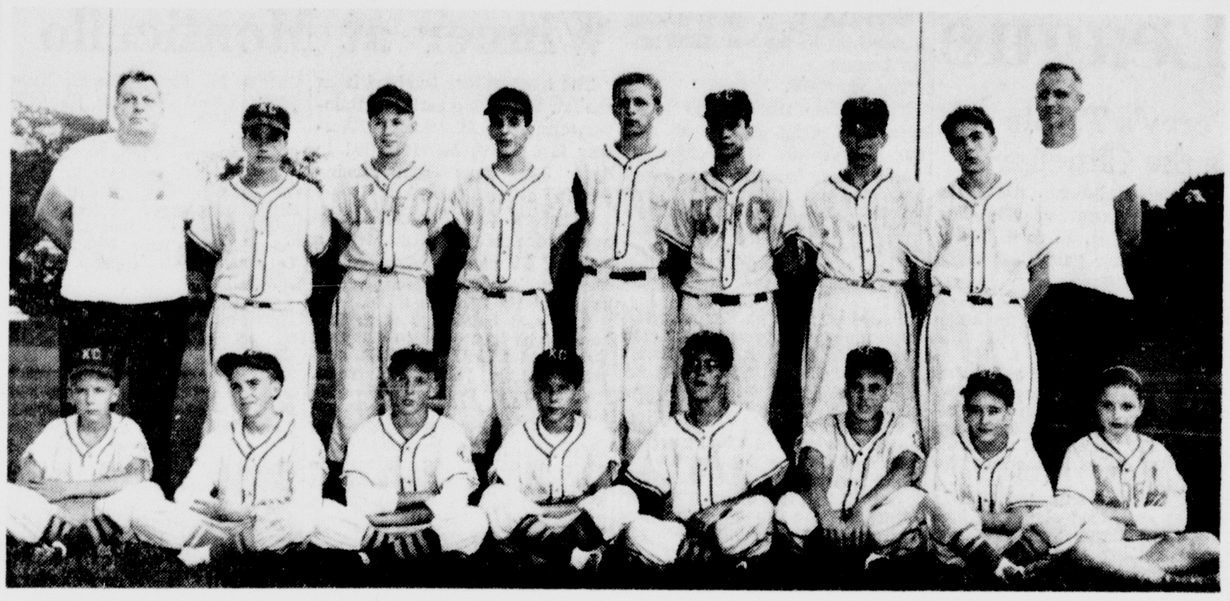

Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of San Antonio, Tex., caught up with 36-year-old Vic Seixas, 2-6, 8-10, 6-0, 6-3, 6-1, to grab a quarter-final berth.

So six of the eight spots in the quarters now are filled. Holmberg, Laver, Olmedo, Bartzen, Fraser and Roy Emerson are in. The other two rounds of 16 tests will be played today. They pit third seeded Barry MacKay of Dayton, Ohio, against Bob Mark of Australia, and sixth - seeded Luis Ayala against Ed Dailey of Harrisburg, Pa.

Only part of one match was played Wednesday in the women's division because of a 45-minute thunderstorm.

Top-seeded Maria Bueno of Brazil and Jeanne Arth of St. Paul, were tied at one set each when darkness fell.

Avila's Grand Slammer Keeps Milwaukee Alive

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

One game, or one play. Even one hit. That may be the difference, the turning point in the National League's three-way scrap scrap for the pennant. And that one game, that one play or that one hit may have been put away Wednesday night.

The big game went to Don Drysdale, the right-hander who had lost six in a row and was on the spot in any hopes for a flag for Los Angeles. He junked the slump with his first victory in a month, getting it with a three-hitter that beat Philadelphia 1-0.

The big play was Wally Moon's, giving Drysdale and the Dodgers their run. He did it with nervy base-running, moving from first to second on a foul pop—and then scoring on Gil Hodges' single.

The big hit was Bobby Avila's—a grand-slam home run in the ninth that boosted Milwaukee's Braves, pressing for a winning streak, to a 5-3 victory over St. Louis after they had been held to two hits for eight innings.

That left the Braves and the Dodgers in a tie for second, three games behind San Francisco. The Giants kept that edge by whipping Pittsburgh 7-2.

Two For Redlegs

Cincinnati beat the Chicago Cubs twice, winning the opener 4-2 in 10 innings and the nightcap, held to five innings because of darkness, 7-2.

Drysdale (16-12) was tagged for two triples (by Joe Koppe and Ed Bouchee) and hit three batters, but he didn't walk a man and struck out 11.

Avila's shot, his third homerun, gave Warren Spahn his 19th victory. Ernie Broglio (6-12) had held the Braves hitless from Joe Adcock's 23rd home run in the second inning until Adcock singled leading off the ninth. Then Johnny Logan and Del Crandall singled, loading the bases with one out and setting up Avila's third major league slam.

The Giants made it with three runs in the fifth on one hit. Two scored as the Pirates missed on a doubleplay try — with Willie Mays scampering home from second as first baseman Dick Stuart argued the call. Jack Sanford (13-12), who had lost three in a row, won it with Stu Miller's hitless two-inning mopup. Harvey Haddix (11-11) was the loser, giving up Mays' 27th homer for a 2-0 Giant lead in the third.

6 Straight Wins Leave Them Just Where They Were

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

You might say the Cleveland Indians have been streaking along at a standstill in that American League pennant chase.

They've won six in a row, seven of their last eight and 15 of the last 20.

Yet the Injuns are right where they were when they started—4½ games behind Chicago's first-place White Sox.

The Tribe has lost only five times in 20 games since dropping four in a row and falling 4½ games behind Chicago on August 18. But those five defeats have kept them on a treadmill, for it was the White Sox who handed Cleveland all five.

The Sox, who have a 17-7 record in that same span, won their fourth in a row and reduced their magic number to 12 by beating Washington 5-1 Wednesday night as the two contenders opened their last trips through the East.

Cleveland stayed with 'em by sweeping a twi-night doubleheader at Baltimore, beating the Orioles 3-2 and 4-1.

Still, any combination of 12 Chicago victories and Cleveland defeats will give the White Sox their first pennant in 40 years. Chicago has 15 games left, Cleveland 16.

Detroit held on to third place with a 3-1 victory at Boston on a three-hit pitching job by Jim Bunning (16-11) and Al Kaline's two-run homer. New York, a half game behind the Tigers, handed Kansas City a 12th consecutive loss, 4-0, as Art Ditmar (12-8) and Whitey Ford combined for a four-hit shutout.

Cincinnati took two from Chicago's Cubs, winning 4-2 in 10 innings and then taking the nightcap, held to five innings because of darkness, 7-2.

The White Sox, out-hit 7-6, made it 11 in a row over the last place Senators by breaking a 1-all tie in the seventh.

They scored four runs in the seventh on a walk, two errors, Al Smith's single to center, Jim Rivera's single off the shin of loser Tex Clevenger (7-4), a bunt single by Bob Shaw and Luis Aparicio's sacrifice fly.

The Indians scored all of their first-game runs in the last three frames putting it away in the ninth when George Strickland singled to center and came all the way home when the ball got past Willie Tasby. Southpaw Jack Harshman (6-9) beat his ex-mates with a five-hitter in a duel with Milt Pappas (14-8).

Rookie Jim Perry (11-7) then beat the Birds with a five-hitter in the second game. The Indians broke a 1-1 tie with singles by Minnie Minoso and Rocky Colavito off Skinny Brown (9-8) in the sixth.

Attendance Drops At Saratoga Raceway

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Attendance dropped slightly but the total handle increased during the summer meeting at Saratoga Raceway.

The State Tax Department reported Wednesday that 269,947 persons attended the 69-day summer meet this year and bet a total of $11,793,683, compared with 271,927 and $11,645,884 in the summer of 1958.

The state's share of the handle this summer was $587,957, compared with $582,268 last year.

A fall meeting now is under way at the harness track.

Harry Hohnhorst Will Join A Group First Time in Seniors

A three-time winner of the Class A title in the Ulster County Seniors golf tournament, Harry Hohnhorst, the sprightly artist-golfer moves into the 75 years and up bracket for the first time in the 1959 renewal.

Hohnhorst won the A title three times in the 70 to 74 age group, top bracket until the 75 and up class was created in 1958. Bruff Olin, also of Woodstock, was the first winner in the new group.

Challenging Hohnhorst, besides Olin, will be his arch rival from Twaalfskill, Harold F. King, who won Class A event in 1955.

The oldest active player in the field — Rodney Osterhoudt of Wiltwyck Country Club—will be competing in the 7th annual tournament at the sprightly age of 80. Osterhoudt has never won the title, but has been a high finisher.

Largest Entry Ever

George W. Schwarzwaelder, the Woodstock Country Club treasurer, is actually the oldest entry at 81, but says he will join the boys for the luncheon and let it go at that.

The Class A division has six other entries this season, making it the largest in the history of the tournament. Other entries and their ages include: Leon Forst (78), Bruff Olin (77), Frank A. Benson (76), Harold F. King (75), Carl Preston (75 and up).

Louis B. Fellows of Saugerties (70) and Harry Talcott (71) are the lone entries in Class B (70 to 74).

Entries for the tournament which will be played Sunday at Woodstock Country Club close at midnight tonight. The pairings and starting times will be announced in Friday's edition.

Rocky Must Use Left for Shakes In Tour of Fair

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Gov. Rockefeller faced a tour of the State Fair today in one of modern politics most awkward situations —his right hand, the hand-shaking hand, was out of action.

A tour of the State Fair traditionally involves meeting thousand of people and shaking hands with a good portion of them. Rockefeller is a great handshaker.

He showed up here Wednesday with a white bandage on the middle finger of his right hand. He greeted newsmen with his left hand.

Everyone wanted to know what happened.

The governor explained that, while he was getting into a car yesterday in New York City to go from his office to the airport, the chauffeur closed the door on his finger.

A reporter asked what the governor said then.

"He was a divinity student," Rockefeller said with a smile, "I just asked him if he would be kind enough to open the door."

The governor would not identify the culprit. "He already feels bad enough about it."

The accident ripped the nail on the governor's finger.

Sachs Escapes Injuries in Early Workouts

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Dan Sachs, the oft-injured, seldom played but always touted Princeton tailback, has Tiger fans holding their collective breaths today, for he has gone unhurt in two consecutive scrimmage sessions.

This is not the average for the bread-and-butter runner of a college team but Sachs' attendance record in the Princeton backfield has been far from average during the past two years.

Coach Dick Colman describes him as "outstanding talent" and freely admits that the team's chances of grabbing an Ivy League title depend to a great deal on his health.

Iowa's speedy halfback, Ray Jeter, looks as if he's trying to duplicate Sachs. He sprained an ankle during a passing drill Wednesday and will be out for the week. He missed last week with a hand injury.

UCLA has its tailback problems too. Bill Kilmer, considered the No. 1 man, is back for limited action after being injured. However, he is not expected to start against Purdue next week.

Ron Purdin appears to have taken the No. 1 right halfback spot on Northwester, which opens Gagainst Oklahoma. He teamed with left half Ron Burton, who scored three times, and quarterback Dick Thornton, who fired three TD passes, in a heavy scrimmage session Wednesday.

Hitting — Bobby Avila, Braves, hammered a grand-slam home run with one out in the ninth for 5-3 victory over the Cardinals.

Pitching — Don Drysdale, Dodgers, kept Los Angeles in second place tie with three-hit 1-0 decision over the Phillies, striking out 11 and walking none.

Calm Drysdale Regains Touch

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Don Drysdale decided to take it easy and Wally Moon decided to take a chance.

That may explain about as well as anything why the Los Angeles Dodgers are still hanging in there today, three games behind the league leading San Francisco Giants.

Tonight the Dodgers will try for a sweep of their 11-game home series with Philadelphia in the final meeting of the two clubs this year.

Drysdale, whose recent six-game losing streak was accompanied by frequent losses of temper, played as quiet and cautious as a burglar Wednesday night as he picked up his 16th victory in a 1-0 shutout of the Phillies.

The 6-foot-6 fight-hander struck out 11, didn't walk a man and got through the entire game without snarling at anybody.

A daring stunt by Wally Moon proved as essential to the victory as the pitching.

Moon opened the sixth with a single off loser Taylor Phillips (1-6). Norm Larker tried to bunt Wally along but popped the ball foul with catcher Carl Sawatski making a fine diving catch.

Moon, seeing Sawatski sprawled on the ground, touched up at first and sprinted to second, just getting there ahead of Sawatski's throw. It was a considerable risk but it paid off when Gil Hodges singled with two outs, driving in Moon with the game's only run.

Yarish, Admitted Columbia Slayer, Faces 20 Years

HUDSON, N. Y. (AP)—Richard Yarish, a 17-year-old farmhand, is to be sentenced next Thursday on a charge of second-degree murder in the slaying of a fellow worker.

Yarish, who was to have gone on trial today in Columbia County Court on a charge of first-degree murder, pleaded guilty Wednesday to the second-degree charge.

Justice Herbert D. Hamm of State Supreme Court set next Thursday for sentencing. The minimum sentence is 20 years in prison.

Yarish admitted killing Fred Waldorf, 56, last January on a farm in nearby Craryville while stealing an automobile.

Perry's Triple Is the Clincher

Recreation League All Stars upset the cream of the City Softball League, 11 to 6, in the annual all star game last night at Dietz Stadium.

Bob Perry's bases-loaded triple with two out in the sixth provided the clincher for the Recs.

Lasher, Carpino and Joe Amato shared the pitching chores for the Recs, yielding only six hits between them and getting the backing of a pair of three run rallies in the last two innings.

The winners collected 10 hits off the combined slants of Bob Boyle and Corky Van Vliet, the latter getting tagged with the loss. Carpino was the winner.

Nick Hahn excelled for the Recs with three singles. Garrison slammed a double. No other players collected more than one hit.

Bellwether Top Saratoga Horse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven-year-old Bellwether is the fastest trotter to date at Saratoga Raceway's fall meeting.

Bellwether won a division of the $2,700 Green Island in 2:04 2-5 Wednesday night, trouncing six others by nearly nine lengths.

A heavy favorite, the son of Guy Hall returned $3. He was driven by his owner, Ralph Leslie of Johnstown.

Beth Spencer, owned by Mrs. Electra McDowell of New York, won the second division of the one-mile event in 2:09. Also a favorite, the winner paid $3.

At Roosevelt Raceway, another favorite won also. Quick Jo, a 3-year-old colt, breezed to his fifth consecutive triumph in 2:04 3-5, finishing 1½ lengths in front in the featured Class A pace.

Driven by Robert Cherrix for the J. F. L. Farms of Great Neck, Quick Jo returned $4.10. Lilac Time was second, Lee R., third.

Other feature-race results:

Monticello Raceway—K. D. Senator ($9.80) won New York-Pennsylvania Pace for 2-year-old colts in 2:12 2-5.

Batavia Downs—Easter Sunday Bars ($21.70) won Class B Pace in 2:06.

Even Big Klu Has That Chisox Bug

WASHINGTON (AP) — The go-go tactics of the Chicago White Sox have spread to the lumbering members of their crew.

Even Ted Kluszewski, the ponderous first baseman, is getting into the act. Everybody knows that the 245-pound Klu never has won any prizes in a running contest.

Big Klu, purchased from Pittsburgh a few weeks ago for his long hitting punch, did some hustling and thinking on the base lines Wednesday night and, as a result, the White Sox were able to beat Washington for the 11th straight time. The score was 5-1.

The Sox and Senators were tied 1-1 when Kluszewski drew a walk to lead off the seventh inning. When Sherm Lollar accidentally grounded to the box, Ted stormed into second in a cloud of dust.

Billy Goodman then drove a grounder toward shortstop Billy Consolo and Ted started for third on what looked like a foolhardy gamble. However, he maneuvered his body into the path of Consolo's throw toward third. The ball thudded into Kluszewski's broad back. Not only was everybody safe, but the White Sox went on to score four runs in the inning.

Said Kluszewski: "I knew I had made a mistake when I broke for third. My only way out was to slide where I thought the throw was going to come. Sure, it hurt when it hit, but not any more."

If you're not sure about how to clean leather cloves, have them professionally dry cleaned. Some leather gloves launder beautifully and these carry a tag that says so. Others call for cleaning, so play it safe.

$2,500,000 Set As Asking Price For Third Loop

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—Pricing a franchise in the new third major league?

Try $2,500,000.

The Buffalo Bisons, 1959 International League champions and the biggest box office draw in minor league baseball, were asked for statements to cover that amount by Bill Shea of the new Continental League, it was reported Wednesday.

Shea also requested information on a stadium to seat at least 35,000.

President John C. Stiglmeier of the community-owned Bisons said Shea asked for a statement covering the first $1,500,000 and "an additional statement on backers who can put up another $1,000,000."

The Bisons expect to move into newly - remodeled Civic Stadium with a 40,000 capacity next season. Their present stadium seats 14,000.

Buffalo's attendance figures have led the minors for three years despite a seventh-place finish last year.

The Bisons drew a record 405,478 paid admissions during the regular season this year, and 286,000 in 1958. In 1957, when they finished second, the Bisons attracted 452,000 including the playoffs and the Little World Series.

Giants Threaten Eastern Pullout Over Rhubarb

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Springfield's General Manager Charles Stoneham says he'll withdraw the Giants from the Eastern League playoffs if a protest by Binghamton is upheld.

The Triplets are protesting the first game of their semi-final playoff with Springfield. They lost that one, 4-2, Tuesday night and they lost again Wednesday night, 5-2. It is a best-of-five series.

The Giants won the league pennant and they are favored to win the playoffs—if they don't quit.

The Triplets say the game should be replayed since two of their men were not allowed to play because their names weren't on the official playoff roster. The Giants allowed the two—outfielder Don Lock and pitcher Dick Steward—to play Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Williamsport defeated Allentown, 8-3, in the first game of their semi-final series.

The Springfield-Binghamton series shifts to Binghamton today. Allentown and Williamsport play at Allentown.

Daily Double — $72.90

K. D. Senator Feature Winner at Monticello

The temperature tumbled from the low 90s with a series of thunderstorms at Monticello Raceway last night, but it failed to deter 3,217 fans from turning out for a good card.

The New York Penn Colt two-year pace stake race, with a field of 11 horses, was won by the favorite, K.D. Senator, who returned its backers $5.80.

The A-B handicaps were featured. The trot went to Cooper's Dream in 2.09.3, with 25-1 outsider Thistle Hill Don second. The winner paid $17.50. The place horse returned $21.70.

Frisky Andrew with Norman Stephens, driving from the eight post in a driving rainstorm, scooted home ahead of Adois H in a photo. The race went in 2.09.2.

$72.90 Daily Double

The daily double combination of 8-3 paid $72.90, when Jessie Kilroy, a mudder, won the first and Poppy's Queen came from behind to win the second race. The handle was $182,669.

Longest payoff of the night came in the sixth when Castor Pick was placed first to pay $27.00, after Gold Malley won but broke at the wire. Lapped on Gold Valley was dropped to second.

The summaries:

FIRST RACE, Class D trot, $600: Jessie Kilroy (Taylor), $8.40, 4.80, $4.20; Brilliant Sun (Klein), $7.10, $4.50; Rejected (Chaue), $5.30—also started—Tigrem, Little Jean, Wood Hanover, Bright Dream Time: 2.15.

Travel Light But With Proper Boating Gear

PACKAGE DEAL—Choose luggage for your boat that can be folded and stowed easily. Storage space is always scarce.

By WM. TAYLOR McKEOWN
Editor, Popular Boating

(Distributed by NEA Service)

"We've been invited out on a friend's boat for the week-end," men and women readers write.

"What do we need to take along? What are we expected to bring?"

If you don't know, find out: 1. How big is the boat? 2. Will you be sleeping aboard?

The size of the boat is important. Clothes that look sporty in a fashion magazine can lose their glamour when the first solid green wave breaks on deck.

In a runabout or small sailboat, you will need sturdy and warm clothing. Boating has always been the answer to any heat wave. Speeding through blowing spray can keep you cool on the hottest days.

Skip fancy clothes if you are small-boat sailing. Sweaters, dungarees, bathing suit, raincoat or foul weather gear are in order. It's unsporty to borrow a warm jacket off your host's back. A larger boat may have extras aboard.

Arrive with rubber-soled boating shoes on, clothes and any accessories in a soft duffle or sea bag. Any craft smaller than a palatial yacht has limited storage space. A stiff-framed suitcase cannot be folded and stowed conveniently.

Because bags must fold, so must clothes. If the week-end will include parties ashore and you bring dressy clothes, choose garments that hold their crease and do not wrinkle easily.

The air is moist around a boat and promptly removes all shape from suits and dresses that need constant ironing. Hang up clothes if the boat boasts a hanging locker.

Find out about sleeping aboard or ashore. Some families find much of the fun is to blow up air mattresses and curl up in sleeping bags on the floorboards or the beach. This can be fun if you come mentally forewarned, but it has also been a severe shock to landlubbers and boatmen used to bunks.

Count on your hosts for food unless you have offered to bring something in advance and they have agreed. Refrigeration is usually limited. There may be no room in the ice chest for your surprise contributions.

In your kit include toilet articles, insect repellent, sun tan lotion, a flashlight, binoculars, camera and sun glasses. Put on dark glasses immediately if it is a bright day. A few hours of staring into glare on the water can bring on a headache.

If you suspect seasickness, take in advance one of the new anti-motion drugs. While you may never feel upset on your boat, the seemingly unsettled motion of a strange craft can cause uneasiness in many experienced sailors.

Be certain that the marine toilet aboard operates in the manner to which you are accustomed. These devices can jam up easily. Ask questions of your skipper on such matters, follow instructions.

As added insurance on a trip when the weather appears threatening, you might include one of the very small portable radios, a pocket-sized novel and a deck of cards. Some week-ends it has been known to rain.

But even a damp day can be restful if you are dry and warm afloat.

Avila Proving Biggest Grab For the Braves

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Bobby Avila is proving a prize grab for the Milwaukee Braves in the National League pennant fight. He still has plenty of dramatic clutch hits in his potent bat.

The American League castoff disregarded a painful leg muscle pull Wednesday night and cracked a bases-loaded ninth-inning homer that lifted the Braves to a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The 380-foot drive over the left field fence enabled the Braves to stay within three games of the first place San Francisco Giants, who won 7-2 over Pittsburgh.

"I saw World Series money flying away," Avila said with a big laugh. "I was just trying to hit the ball. He had two strikes (and a ball) one me, so he threw me a curve. I knew it was gone."

Acquired from the Boston Red Sox in July after bouncing around the American League for a decade, the 33-year-old second baseman got into the lineup against the Cardinals as an emergency substitute. Felix Mantilla was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Manager Fred Haney had to turn to the ailing Avila.

Yep, He's Big

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Who's the biggest football player in the nation?

Texas Southern thinks it has him—James Sorey, senior tackle from Tampa, Fla. Sorey tips the beam at 309 pounds.

Sorey also says he has lost 16 pounds since reporting for football training at the Negro school.

McIntire Gains Women's Finals

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—National Amateur champion Barbara McIntire and National Collegiate champion Judy Eller may meet in the finals of the Women's Trans - Mississippi Golf Tournament.

Both Miss McIntire and Miss Eller won second round matches Wednesday and emerged as heavy favorites in their separate brackets.

They moved into quarter-final play today. Finals are Saturday.

Miss McIntire, of Lake Park, Fla., beat Barbara Ann Slobe of Waukegan, Ill., 5 and 4, Wednesday. Miss Slobe was one of thre comedalists. The 19-year-old Miss Eller of Old Hickory, Tenn., defeated Mrs. Ruth White Miller of Long Beach, Calif., 3 and 2.

Miss Eller was one of the medalists. The third, Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, was defeated in first round play.

Indians Acquire That One-Run Habit

BALTIMORE (AP) — Taking a page from the book of the league-leading Chicago White Sox, the Cleveland Indians have found the happy formula of winning late inning one-run victories.

Cleveland's 28-18 edge in one-run games is modest compared to Chicago's 33-11 margin, but it's significant that the Indians' last-ditch six - game winning streak has been built on such thrillers.

When the Indians edged the Baltimore Orioles 3-2 in the first game of a doubleheader sweep Wednesday night, it was their fifth victory in a row by one run, four of which they won in the ninth inning.

No Foolin' When Willie's on Base

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—You're got to play heads - up baseball against the National League leading San Francisco Giants, especially when Willie Mays is on base.

The Pittsburgh Pirates discovered that Wednesday as they dropped a 7-2 decision. The Giants maintained a 3-game lead over Milwaukee and Los Angeles.

Here was the situation: Pitcher Jack Sanford was on third, Mays on second and Willie McCovey on first. There was one out with Orlando Cepeda batting and the Giants ahead 2-1.

Cepeda hit a bouncer to shortstop Dick Groat who threw to second baseman Bill Mazeroski to force McCovey. Mazeroski relayed to first baseman Dick Stuart as Sanford scored. Mays didn't break stride as he rounded third and headed for home. Mazeroski's throw didn't get Cepeda and by the time Stuart realized what was happening, Mays had scored from second on a force out.

Underdogs Win In IL Playoffs

It would almost appear as if there might have been a bit of possum-playing by Richmond and Havana during the regular International League season.

Both of these teams knocked off the favorites Wednesday night as the loop's best-of-seven semifinal series got underway, with the ultimate result to pick a winner to meet the American Assn. champ in the Little Worl dSeries.

Richmond used pennant-winner Buffalo's favorite weapon, the home-run, to belt the Bisons 8-4 and Havana zipped by Columbus, the second-place team, 5-3.

Fritz Brickell's three-run, sixth inning homer off losing reliever Max Surkont propelled Richmond to its victory. Deron Johnson started the fireworks two innings earlier with a two-run homer off Buffalo starter Ken Lehman.

Ray Shearer's eighth - inning homer broke a 2-2 tie to send Havana on the way. It came off reliever Dave Jiminez, who struck out 11 Cubans in six innings. Havana nailed it dow nwith a pair in the ninth.

Tonight's Schedule:
Richmond at Buffalo, 7:30 p. m.
Havana at Columbus, 9 p. m.

Knockout Halts Kerwin Comeback

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A technical knockout by world lightweight champion Joe Brown in the fourth round Wednesday night kayoed the hopes of Canadian welterweight champion Gale Kerwin for a climb into U.S. ring prominence.

Brown of Houston, Tex., won the non-title charity bout here in one minute and 50 seconds of the fourth after Kerwin suffered a gash over his left eye.

Referee Jack Dempsey, the former heavyweight king, halted the national televised fight, called the ringside physician to examine Kerwin and awarded the match to Brown.

The 24-year-old Ottawa fighter had been out of action for about a year and hoped to use Wednesday night's bout as a stepping stone.

Syracuse Team Needs A Good Quarterback

By JAMES KOCH
Associated Press Staff Writer

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — A mighty line and a powerful running game should give Syracuse one of the nation's standout football teams this year, if Coach Ben Schwartzwalder finds a quarterback.

It's a big "If."

Schwartzwalder is converting German-born Ger Schwedes, a hard-running wingback and his most experienced performer, to the vital signal-calling spot in hope of saving the Syracuse skin. Schwedes must prove himself a passer.

Three Deep

Elsewhere, the Orange is three and four deep in most positions and well-prepared for a 10-game schedule that includes such powers as Penn State, Pittsburgh, Navy, West Virginia and UCLA.

Ernie Davis, a 205-pound sophomore, is billed as another Jimmy Brown, the Syracuse All-America who became the leading ground-gainer in the professional National Football League.

Art Baker, an intercollegiate wrestling champion, is a 191-pound fullback who hits with power. Schwartzwalder is extremely high on Mark Weber, a bruising runner and Schwedes' successor at wingback.

The line, headed by Roger Davis, Bruce Tarbox and burly Bob Yates, can match any in the east and perhaps in the country. The reserves are deep.

25 Men Returning

Returning are 25 of the first 33 men on the 1958 squad, which posted an 8-1 record before losing to Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl.

Gone, however, are Chuck Zimmerman, the All-East quarterback, and Dan Fogarty, his understudy.

Schwartzwalder thought he had the problem solved when Bobby Thomas, the No. 3 man, impressed in spring practice. A month later Thomas complained of back trouble.

Rather than wait for Thomas, Schwartzwalder decided to gamble on Schwedes, the team's leader in rushing and pass-receiving last fall, at the unfamiliar quarterback spot.

Schwedes, an honor student and a natural leader, has little time to learn the job before the opener here with Kansas Sept. 26. So far he has proved adept.

However, Orange opponents are sure to stack their defenses against the running game until Schwedes shows he can pass.

Whether this will curb Davis, a dazzling runner as a freshman, and the other backs is a question.

Schwartzwalder plans to have his halfbacks throw more this year. He shifted Pete Brokaw, an inexperienced ballhandler from quarterback to halfback to take advantage of his passing and running. Dave Sarette, impressive as a freshman two years ago, will be the No. 2 man behind Schwedes.

Thomas reported this fall but has not scrimmaged. If his back trouble clears, Schwedes always can play wingback.

Davis Heads Linemen

The line presents little problem. Roger Davis, a 228-pound veteran, is considered Syracuse's best lineman in history. He and Tarbox, a pleasant surprise in 1958, will be the guards. Yates and Maury Youmans, 6-6 and 220 pounds, should be the tackles.

Dave Baker, a fleet pass-receiver, heads a competent corps of ends. Tom Gilburg, No. 2 behind Baker at left end, is one of the nation's best punters. Fred Mautino and Gerry Skonieczki are battling for the right-end spot.

Al Bemiller and Dave Applehof are veteran centers and sophomore Bob Stem is counted on to help the linebacking, a soft spot last year.

The schedule:

Sept. 26, Kansas home.

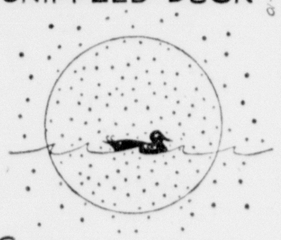

Oct. 3, Maryland home; Oct. 10, Navy in the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk, Va.; Oct. 17 Holy Cross home; Oct. 24, West Virginia home; Oct. 31, Pitt at Pittsburgh.

Nov. 7, Penn State at University Park, Pa.; Nov. 14, Colgate home; Nov. 21, Boston University at Boston; Dec. 5, UCLA at Los Angeles.

HOW TO FINISH A CRIPPLED DUCK

SITTING DUCKS MAKE SMALLER TARGETS THAN DUCKS IN FLIGHT. THE HEAD AND NECK MAY ESCAPE PELLETS IN THE SHOT PATTERN, AND REGULAR SMALL-SIZE SHOT HAS LITTLE EFFECT AGAINST THE FEATHER-AND WING-COVERED SIDES, SO USE NUMBER 2 SHOT FOR PENETRATION ON CRIPPLES.

GO AFTER A CRIPPLE AS SOON AS YOU CAN, OR HE MAY SWIM AWAY. SHOOT WHENEVER HE RE-APPEARS AFTER A DIVE.

IF HE REVIVES LATER, SWING HIS HEAD ON SOMETHING HARD.

Cool, Dry Air Moving Into State

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Cool, dry air from the West was coming in to end a heat wave that broke many records in New York State, the Weather Bureau said today.

The Bureau said cool air would move into Western New York this afternoon, dropping temperatures from 85-90 degree highs to the 60s and low 70s by evening, with lows in some areas dipping into the 50s.

By tomorrow, the relief will be general throughout the state, the Bureau forecasts.

Records Wednesday included Rochester's 98, Buffalo's 95 and Albany's 94. The Rochester reading was six degrees above the previous high mark for the date, set in 1941.

New York City sweltered under a high of 91.9, only one-tenth of a degree below the record of the date, set 87 years ago.

Mercury Drops 30-40 Degrees With Cool Air

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cool Canadian air moved into the central section of the country today, and temperatures plummeted.

Early readings in the northern Plains and upper Mississippi Valley were 30 to 40 degrees lower than 24 hours earlier.

Hours after the cool air swept down, it had moved into the lower Great Lakes and southwestward into northern Texas.

Warm, humid air, however, clung heavily to southeastern United States.

In Birmingham, Ala., Wednesday, 1½ inches of rain fell in about 70 minutes. Some power lines fell; cars stalled throughout the city; basements, some yards and the downtown section were flooded.

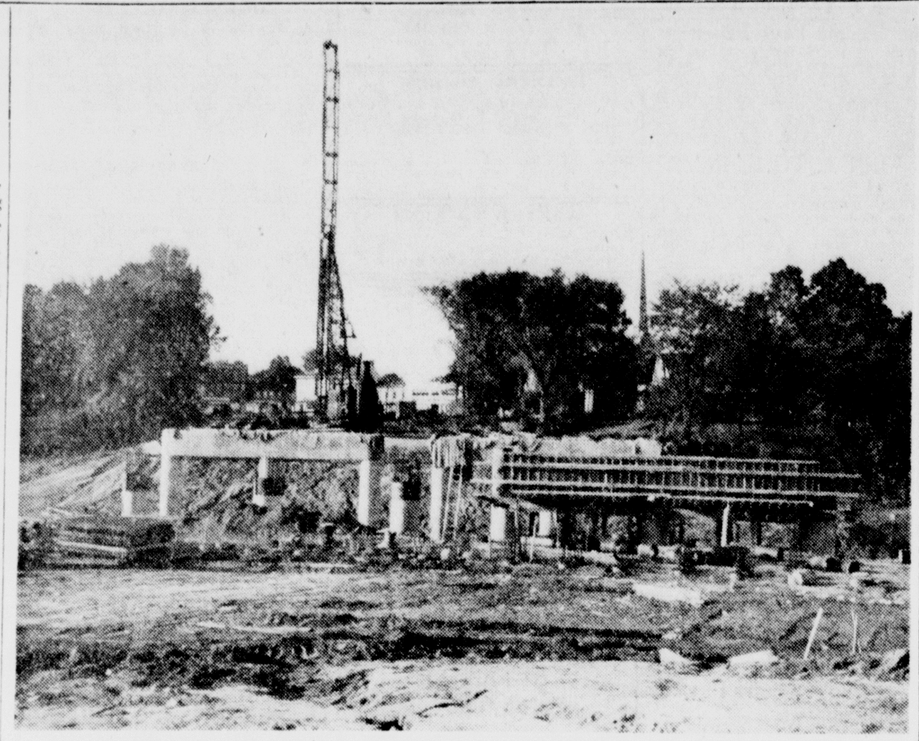

St. Petersburg, Fla., received 3.17 inches of rain in one hour, and in some streets water ran 12 inches deep.

SUBSTRUCTURE TAKES FORM just west of Albany Avenue for the arterial route bridge that will span the mountain branch of the New York Central Railroad. First pouring of concrete is due soon in the city southeast of this point. John Arborio, Inc., of Poughkeepsie, is the contractor. (Freeman photo)

WELL ADVANCED GRADING will permit continuous pouring of concrete on the city's arterial route spur as soon as bridges are completed over the railroad, Esopus Creek and secondary roads. View here is looking toward the Route 28-Thruway interchange area. An engineer said today that the traffic circle which will connect Route 28, the arterial route and the Thruway is soon to be paved. A traffic count on Route 28 now in progress is considered routine and has no special bearing on the project under way, the proposed 209 bypass project or elimination of the Washington Avenue viaduct. Policy Getting More Rigid

Nehru Charges Chou's Note Adds to Gravity of Crisis

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A bitter exchange of notes between India and Red China was laid before Parliament here today and Prime Minister Nehru said Premier Chou En-lai's latest letter adds to the gravity of the border crisis.

"Step by step their policy has become more rigid," Nehru said.

Each nation accused the other of aggression and each demanded that the other withdraw its forces from frontier areas whose ownership is in dispute. India offered one concession — to make the Longju area a temporary no man's land pending negotiation.

Both Renew Claims

But both sides renewed their claims to Longju, the isolated post which Red Chinese troops seized nearly two weeks ago in a gunfight with Indian frontier guards. The Chinese warned India against trying to retake it.

The seriousness of the situation is highlighted by Chou's letter, made public in Peiping Wednesday. Nehru told the upper house of Parliament. With bristling finality, Chou rejected Indian protests against what Nehru called aggression in the Longju area.

A new aspect of the exchange, however, was the Indian offer to make Longju a temporary no man's land while the ownership of the area is discussed. Previous Indian statements have indicated the Chinese would be pushed out of the place unless they withdrew voluntarily.

Accuses Indians

The note was handed to the Communist Chinese ambassador here Wednesday, the same day that Red Chinese Premier En-lai was making public in Peiping a letter accusing the Indians of aggression and demanding that they withdraw.

In the batch of papers opened in Parliament in advance of a debate on the border dispute, were four other notes from Peipingm One a week ago claimed Longju was on the Tibetan side of the border and charged that India committed "deliberate aggression" by maintaining troops here.

Called Brazen Act

The note further charged that Indian troops "brazenly" occupied Chinese territory at several other points along the Tibetan border since June 28, thereby creating an "extremely dangerous" situation.

Another note charged Indian aircraft with six violations of the Communist Chinese borders since July.

In his letter Chou charged that Indians, not the Chinese, actually were the "trespassers" in border incidents, and were "shielding (Tibetan) rebel bandits" along the frontier. Many Tibetan refugees from Communist rule have fled to India.

Adds to Embarrassment

The exiled Dalai Lama of Tibet, a refugee in India, added to Nehru's embarrassment by spurning his advice and appealing directly to the United Nations for "immediate intervention" in his Himalayan country seized by the Chinese Communists nine years ago.

Nehru, in granting refuge to the Buddhist god-king during an uprising against the Communists last spring, advised him that going to the U. N. would not help the Tibetan people. He also made plain that he expected the Dalai Lama to avoid political activities that would hurt Indian relations with Red China while he is on Indian soil.

Soviet Shows Concern

The Soviet Union showed concern about the split between Peiping and New Delhi and appealed to both countries to "settle the misunderstandings that have arisen." The Soviets warned the West not to exploit the quarrel.

Chou En-lai's letter to Nehru was released by Peiping on the eve of the opening of debate in the upper house of the Indian Parliament on the delicate relations between Red China and India. Nehru is expected to speak in the debate.

Note Largely Conciliatory

Chou's note was largely conciliatory but contained barbed accusations that gave Nehru little room to maneuver.

Nehru, while accusing the Chinese Communists of aggression, told Parliament on Sept. 4 that India was ready to submit minor border disputes to negotiation and even arbitration.

Chou En-lai charged that "the tense situation recently arising on the Chinese-Indian border was all caused by trespassing and provocations by Indian troops."

He demanded that the Indians withdraw. Nehru's declaration that India has no alternative but to defend her borders against aggression, however, apparently ruled out acceptance of any such demand.

6 Children Die As Train Plows Into School Bus

MOUNTAIN LAKE PARK, Md. (AP)— A St. Louis-to-Baltimore passenger train smashed into a loaded school bus at a grade crossing near this western Maryland resort community today. Six of the 25 children on the bus were killed, and 15 more seriously injured.

The Baltimore & Ohio eastbound Diplomat knocked the bus on its side down the track about 8:30 a.m.

Visibility was good. The railroad said the signal light and bell marking the crossing were working.

Several reports indicated the bus stalled as it started across the tracks and that the driver had opened the door to try to get the children off the bus.

R. V. Morrow, one of the first at the scene, said he saw the bus driver, Leroy Campbell, and three or four boys walk out of the wreckage.

Ambulances rushed the victims to a hospital at Oakland, county seat of Garrett, Maryland's westernmost county. Oakland is about 40 miles east of Cumberland, Md.

The accident occurred about four miles south of Oakland. The bus had picked up the pupils from the rural area to the south and was transporting them to Southern High and Dennett Elementary schools at Oakland.

300 Attack Cops After They Seize 2 Gang Members

NEW YORK (AP)—A crowd of 300 attacked two policemen with soda bottles, stones and sticks Wednesday night when they arrested two teen-age gang members on a West Side street.

The arrested youths, Reuben Aguirre, 16, and Tomas Martinez, 18, were members of the Buccaneers gang. Other members of that gang were involved in the slaying of two 16-year-old boys in a Hell's Kitchen playground Aug. 30.

Ordered 20 to Leave

Patrolman Frank Pillar said he found about 20 boys gathered on a sidewalk and ordered them to disperse.

"I ain't moving for you," Aguirre was quoted as saying. "This is a free country."

"You're under arrest," the patrolman said.

"I ain't going with you," retorted Aguirre, who is president of the Buccaneers.

Pillar said the boy lunged for his nightstick and a shouting crowd gathered. Pillar held tight to Aguirre as Patrolman Richard Ware ran up. Ware waded into the crowd, while Pillar commandeered a passing car to take Aguirre to a police station.

Withstands Barrage

Then, Ware withstood the barrage of hurled objects until seven radio cars arrived with reinforcements. It took nearly an hour to clear away the crowd.

Martinez, who was arrested for throwing a bottle, was charged with felonious assault. Aguirre was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

A little later, a few blocks north of the same street, Columbus Avenue, a 19-year-old boy was plucked by detectives from a group of 17 youths loitering on a street corner.

The youth, Gilbert (Duke) Vilagas, was charged with stabbing a woman May 3 while she prayed in a church. The victim, Della Considine, fought with a thief who snatched her purse. She was stabbed under the chin but has recovered.

The police crackdown on young criminals, begun last Friday, has resulted in the arrest of more than 425 youths under 21.
